MAPLE SUGAR — MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 10.—The Minnesota forestry department is trying to urge the people to tap the myriads of maple trees, now used only for shade and firewood, and so add maple sugar to the state's crop. One tree will produce three pounds of sugar, and there are hundreds of thousands of trees accessible. A maple sugar like that used to be raised everywhere, has become specialized. A maple tree is an asset—if it is in Vermont. Anywhere else, it is waste.

STYLE MAKERS — Know Moses Mosessohn? Well, you don't need to. The kingdom which he rules is one in which the consent of the governed is not required—though you are among the governed. He it is who determines how long your skirts shall be, and whether clinging or bouffant. Moses is dictator of the Associated Dress Industries of America, while his brother, David, occupies a similar position with the United Women's Wear League. Between them, they tell the manufacturers what to make, for you to wear. The only way you can get out of taking Moses' orders is to take David's. And they both order the same thing.

BETI CETI—It is unfortunate that the explosion of Beta Ceti becomes visible (eighty years after it happened) just when the star is so nearly in line with the sun that satisfactory observations are difficult. It will be some months before the star is visible on earth by night, and by that time, if it follows the course of other "novae," the most active stage of the catastrophe will be over.

It is not often that these convulsions happen in a star so near and so large, but since the beginning of photographic mapping of the heavens, they have been observed somewhere in the stellar universe often enough to indicate that they must have happened as many times as the total number of visible stars, within a period no longer than the estimated life of our sun.

Possibly the earth itself owes its birth to some such outburst. If it does, of course all life, if any exists, on its planets, will be extinguished instantly.

To human egotism, it is difficult to realize that there will be a time when the human race is no more. Yet, looking backward, we see that during most of the history of Earth, there was no human life on it, and that all the creatures that did inhabit it in any but its most recent ages, are now extinct.

What has been, shall be. Whether by the gradual wearing out of the earth, until it becomes uninhabitable, or by some catastrophe such as happened on Beta Ceti eighty years ago and is just now becoming visible to us on the slow wings of light, the end will come to the human race as it comes to much sooner, to each of us individually.

THE KIND WE WANT — Strikes in the forests and paper mills of Sweden are sending to this country a large number of exceedingly high class working people. Let it be hoped that no red tape or exhaustion of quota will limit their coming. These are not the immigrants that our manufacturers are crying for. They do not come to do the roughest work, cheap. They will do very high-class work, and will demand good wages for it. They will not solve the alleged "labor problem" at all. They may even complicate it. But they will make good citizens, and good ancestors of our descendants. And that is the main thing. Immigrants are not tools, or raw material. They are people. We want all the good, capable, upright assimilable people we can get. We want none of any other sort—not even the sort that, just as economic commodities, would "pay."

DISTANCE LENDS ENCHANTMENT — The pot of gold is always at the far end of the rainbow. When the geologist of the Minnesota Blue Sky Commission went down into Oklahoma to investigate the oil companies which were trying to sell stock in his state, he found no Oklahomaans buying that stock. They were too wise to be caught as suckers. Instead, they were buying stock in a gold and diamond mine in Minnesota, at which no Minnesotaan would have been verdant enough to bite!

PERHAPS SO — "It has come to a strange case indeed," says Senator Robinson, "when the Secretary of State will furnish newspaper correspondents with confidential information which he denies to the Senate."

Perhaps the difference is that the newspaper correspondents treat that information honorably and intelligently.

MORE MURDERS IN LOS ANGELES, CLAIM

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Murder is on the increase in Los Angeles.

This was learned today from police statisticians showing that during the month of February there were eleven homicides in the city, two of which were criminals killed by officers.

Desperado in Irons Escapes Guard

POSSES ON TRAIL OF CONVICT

Prisoner, Handcuffed and Shackled, Eludes Officer on Train

FRESNO MAN EQUALS RECORD OF GARDNER

Fugitive Has Escaped from San Quentin and Folsom Penitentiaries

(By United Press Leased Wire)

FRESNO, Calif., March 10.—Howard L. Upton, escaped Folsom prison convict, twice convicted here of burglary and who three times has broken out of jails and prisons in California, escaped from custody on a Southern Pacific train in or near Fresno last night and is still at liberty.

Poses of officers under orders to "take no chances," are hunting for him throughout the Fresno district.

When last seen he was wearing two pairs of handcuffs, leg irons and no clothing but a night-shirt.

Upton broke out of Folsom prison last January 22 and was caught at San Bernardino March 2. Prison Officer Larkin was sent to take him to San Quentin. The guard and prisoner were traveling in a sleeping car. Near Madera late last night Larkin discovered Upton was gone. The guard left the train at Madera, notified the Fresno police and the hunt began. Larkin is watching Upton's home near here, hoping the man will try to reach help there. The man has been quoted as saying he will shoot to kill if any attempt is ever made to arrest him again in Fresno where he has served terms for misdemeanor offenses, in addition to his two convictions of burglary.

His crime record reaches back to 1915, when he was sent to the lone reformatory for burglary. He escaped from San Quentin prison July 5, 1918, and was recaptured next day. He got out of the Fresno county jail January 9, 1920, and stayed out until his arrest on the burglary charge for which he was sentenced to Folsom July 17, 1920. He was serving this sentence when he made his latest break.

DRIVER SERIOUSLY HURT IN CAR CRASH

Suffering from serious injuries to his chest and minor bruises, Thomas Hollwell, driver for George Edgar, grocer, who was involved in an accident at Second and Spurgeon streets yesterday, was in a critical condition at the Community hospital today.

A car driven by Hollwell and one operated by R. A. Howe, 642 North Barton street, collided, according to a police report. Hollwell was hurled against the wheel, sustaining the injuries for which he was being treated today.

According to physicians, Hollwell was suffering from the tearing of ligaments about the chest and lungs. While hopes were entertained for his recovery, his condition was regarded as extremely serious.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF DRY AGENT ESCAPES

BACKSHEAR, Ga., March 10.—S. I. Sharpe, sought in connection with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Brooks, has escaped a posse of citizens and prohibition agents, officials believed today.

Sheriff C. P. Robertson and a force of heavily armed deputies joined prohibition agents and citizens in the search today.

Brooks was killed and J. A. Monroe, prohibition agent, wounded, when they attempted to seize a still on Sharpe's farm.

PRINCE HELD FOR FINE BY FRENCH ARMY

Wilhelm of Lippe Must Pay Seven Million Marks for Carrying Weapon; Two Slain.

BERLIN, March 10.—Two Germans were shot to death by French troops in disorders at Loettinghausen and Essen today, according to reports from those two towns.

At Pirmasens, a German was found dead, evidently having been shot by highwaymen. Two negro French infantrymen were arrested. One of them was said to have had the victim's watch in his possession. Advice from Wernden said Prince Wilhelm of Lippe had been fined seven million marks for carrying a weapon which was described as a leather billy loaded with lead. He was held in custody, pending payment of the fine.

SOLONS DESERT CAPITAL FOR SHORT REST

(By United Press Leased Wire) SACRAMENTO, March 10.—California's forty-fifth legislature has ended its first week's work of the after-recess session. Possibly seven more weeks remain for the lawmakers to complete the legislative program before them.

Only one session at which anything tangible has been accomplished on Governor Richardson's biennial budget has been introduced, despite the fact that the legislators agree that the budget must be considered, changed if there are to be any alterations, and approved before the mass of other business pending can be acted upon. With long hearings on the budget scheduled for next week the legislators are vacationing today. Only a comparatively small number in each house are remaining in Sacramento over the weekend.

Sidelights On What Is Occupying Minds And Time of Solons

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—Labor and capital committees of both houses will hold a joint session next Wednesday night to consider numerous bills introduced regulating employment agencies, according to Senator Murphy. San Francisco, chairman of the upper house body.

The senate finance committee will next week take up for consideration the teachers' retirement bill.

DENY 'THIRD DEGREE' CHARGES

DINERS TOLD BOOST CLUB HAS $5725

Greater S. A. Organization Holds Enthusiastic Meet at St. Ann's Inn

With $5725 announced at the community dinner of the Greater Santa Ana club at St. Ann's Inn last night as pledged to the $12,000 fund the club proposes to spend in advertising Santa Ana, and with speakers from Los Angeles declaring their belief that this city is destined to become one of the largest of a group of large cities in Southern California, 145 men and women of Santa Ana today were thoroughly "sold" on the club program and were enthusiastically supporting the movement.

They visioned the city as a thriving commercial and industrial center, with a harbor teeming with ocean traffic and industrial enterprises, and happy and contented men, women and children forming its citizenship. They visioned also the very highest type of citizenship, developed through a campaign of advertising particularly appealing to the best type of men and women.

See Whole Sum Pledged. With the enthusiasm and spirit of co-operation manifested last night, active men of the club anticipated that the rest of the fund would be quickly and easily pledged. Plans were being made for conducting a drive to secure pledges. The details are not completed, but it is the intention of the officers and executive committee to organize for the work and begin the advertising campaign at an early date.

Declaring that the club will put a soul into the community, and unite every faction, S. D. Koch, Santa Monica, one of the originators of the community advertising idea, asserted that in all his travels, he never has seen a section with the possibilities of Santa Ana and Orange county.

He predicted that, with the proper promotion program and co-operation of citizens, this community would rapidly be developed into one of the greatest cities in the Southland, basing his statements on observations made on an automobile ride taken over Lemon Heights and to the harbor in the afternoon. He declared that properties in Santa Monica had advanced in the past year two to thirteen times their value in 1920, as a direct result of the advertising campaign of that city.

Samuel P. Johnson, promotion manager of the Los Angeles Examiner, suggested points that should be developed in the advertising to be carried, particularly stressing the connection of the city with Orange county harbor. He pictured the possible activity of the harbor in ten or fifteen years.

ATTORNEY IN DEATH CASE OPENS ROW

Declares Camp Physician Illegally Treated In Murder Inquiry

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN DIEGO, March 10.—Charges by his attorneys that third degree methods have been used on Captain Louis L. Jacobs, held in jail here awaiting trial on the charge of slaying pretty Fritz Mann, the dancer, were hotly denied today by both District Attorney Chester C. Kempley and Chief of Police James Patrick.

Attorney James E. Wadham, representing Jacobs, charged that he had been illegally treated in the hope of forcing from him a confession of his guilt. He asserted that Jacobs was taken from his bed in the county jail in the middle of the night and forced to accompany officers to the Blue Sea cottage at La Jolla, alleged scene of Fritz's death; also that he was taken into a "star chamber" at the police station where chains and handcuffs were exhibited and a confession demanded.

"The story that Dr. Jacobs was intimidated by the display of handcuffs and chains at the police station is absolutely false," said Chief of Police Patrick today. "Third degree methods are not used by San Diego police."

District Attorney Kempley said that no illegal methods have been used in the preparation of the case against Jacobs.

"He has been questioned, as all prisoners are questioned," the district attorney said. "He was taken to the Blue Sea cottage at La Jolla, going freely and voluntarily and he answered questions there freely and voluntarily."

Wadham said he would demand of Kempley personal articles taken when Jacobs room was searched at Camp Kearny. He said the officers were still holding these.

Jacobs goes to trial on March 26.

Indications of the fight Dr. Jacobs will make for his freedom were shown today when it became known that private detectives have been employed to question witnesses and others interested in the case. These detectives have approached police officials and others seeking information as to their testimony, it is said.

(By United Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Attempting to drive his machine through a seething mass of fire surrounding Artesia boulevard, caused by the bursting of an oil pipe line, John Logan was today lying in the Artesia hospital in a critical condition.

Logan had just started to enter the zone when the flames at that time only a small grass fire, leaped to the sky as the oil line burst. Logan determined to make a dash for it. When he arrived outside the fire zone on the other side his machine was afire and his clothing burning, and his hair and eyebrows singed off.

A number of other motorists narrowly escaped, being in the fire zone when the pipe burst.

The fire destroyed the home of Bert Shannon, and menaced other property before it was put under control by fire fighters.

The pipe line was shut off and fire fighters started extinguishing the blaze by slowly heaping fresh dirt around the fringes of the oil-soaked area.

The highway has been closed. Oil spread over it for a distance of 2,000 feet makes it impassable. Leslie Penhall, driver of a dairy truck, was slightly burned. His clothes caught fire, but he dashed out of the fire and rolled on the ground until he extinguished the flames.

Rose Pastor Stokes Surrenders for Communist Inquiry

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Mar. 10.—Rose Pastor Stokes and nine others whose arrests were ordered in connection with the raid on the alleged Bridgman Communist convention last fall, surrendered to authorities here today.

The surrender of Mrs. Stokes, who authorities alleged fled from the convention a few minutes before federal agents swooped down on the meeting place, came as a surprise. Mrs. Stokes was a delegate to the meeting which officials alleged had for its purpose an organization of Communists throughout the country in an effort to overthrow the government and establish a Soviet.

Seventeen Communists will go on trial here Wednesday, Judge Charles E. White overruled a motion for a change of venue.

BANDITS GET BIG LOOT IN CAFE HOLDUP

Robbers Force Dancers to Line Up at Point of Guns and Turn Over $1500.

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—Three bandits held up and robbed the proprietor of the Belle Cafe, a roadhouse near here, thirty-five guests, three waiters and the night watchman and escaped with money and jewelry valued at about $1,500, early this morning.

The men and women were lined up and held at the point of guns. A waiter who tried to escape was stopped with a shot fired into the ceiling. He fell on his face and succeeded in hiding a $1,000 diamond and $100 under a paper on the floor.

Writings to the roadhouse had been torn off.

The bandits wore soiled white handkerchiefs as masks. They worked coolly and joked with the guests as they went through their pockets.

MAN IN CACTUS PLUNGE GIRL CASE FREED

S. K. Barnett, Los Angeles, arrested on charges of contributing to the delinquency of Miss Glensy Smart, pretty 18-year-old half sister of Madalynne Obenchain, who was found virtually nude and suffering from multifarious scratches as a result of a fall into the cactus bushes near Newport Beach several weeks ago, was free today, following the dismissal of the action against him.

An insufficiency of evidence caused District Attorney A. P. Nelson to move the dismissal "in the furtherance of justice."

Barnett's arrest followed the sensational discovery of Miss Smart, hysterical and bruised, near Newport Beach. Brought to the county hospital by members of the dredge crew who first saw her, she told a story upon which the warrant was issued.

She had met Barnett in Los Angeles, she said. On the way to Newport Beach, Barnett was said to have offered the girl several drinks, which she accepted. Arriving at their destination, she alleged from the car, missed her footing, slid down an incline and landed in a clump of cactus, she said.

Barnett, she asserted, failed to heed her cries for assistance and drove away.

When the pain from the cactus barbs drove her nearly frantic, Miss Smart began to tear off her clothing.

The crew of a passing boat saw her actions and went to her assistance.

Upon Miss Smart's story, a warrant for Barnett's arrest was issued, and he was arraigned before Justice J. B. Cox. He was released on bail.

NEW TRIAL HEARING IN GIRL CASE FRIDAY

Continued hearing on the motion for a new trial of A. J. Ahlers, convicted of a serious offense involving a young girl, will take place before Superior Judge Z. B. West next Friday.

Argument by Defense Counsel S. B. Kauffman was heard yesterday, but when it was not finished, the hearing was continued.

A new trial had been asked after probation had been denied Ahlers on the ground that the court had erred in instructing the jury.

NOTE CLUE COMES TO PARENTS

Message Reported Missing Child of Albany Couple Is Safe

MANY STATES JOIN IN HUNT FOR LAD

Negro Porter Reports Having Seen Tot and Nurse On Train

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—Leo Minkin, son of Judge and Mrs. Leopold Minkin, who has been missing with a new nurse since Thursday, was found at Newburg, it was announced here late today.

Announcement that the child had been found with the nurse Mary Conkling, was made by the police here. They said they had no details other than a report from the Newburg police, that the two had been found.

(By United Press Leased Wire) ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—"Your child is safe and will be returned. The nurse is innocent."

This note, bearing an Albany postmark, was received today by Mrs. Leopold Minkin, whose baby son, Leo, disappeared last Thursday.

When the baby vanished he was in charge of his nurse, Mary Conkling, and police circulars have been broadcast describing her as the alleged kidnaper.

Whether the mysterious letter was signed, and if so, by whom, could not be learned at the Minkin home where all information was refused. A squad of police and plain clothesmen started searching the city this afternoon, following receipt of the note and postoffice officials began tracing the letter.

Comb Many States. Police of half a dozen states today joined in a hunt for the missing child.

Governor A. E. Smith, after Mayor Hackett had offered a $1,000 reward, asked the authorities of New York City and of states adjoining New York, to aid in the search.

Detectives throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and the New England states are hunting the lad, whose disappearance may take rank with the famous Charley Ross case.

The nurse said gave the name of Mary Conkling, 20. Detectives said she was unknown at the place which she gave as reference. She was last seen with the child on a street car going from Albany to Troy, N. Y.

The search centered in Troy and was also intensified in Bennington, Vermont, as authorities had a "tip" that the boy had been taken there. This tip was supplied by a negro porter, who said he saw the child, accompanied by a woman, on the train en route to that city.

Mrs. Minkin told police the nurse maid had been in her employ only one day, Thursday, Mrs. Minkin went for a visit to her mother. When she returned the boy and his nurse were gone. Little Leopold's clothing was gone and Mrs. Minkin said $25 had been taken from his toy bank.

Father Breaks Down. Judge Minkin was in a state of collapse today. He was yesterday to aid in running down the clue which led to that city but was unable to stand the strain.

Mrs. Minkin, having given the authorities the information in her possession, is almost prostrated. Tracing the movements of the nurse, prior to the kidnapping, detectives found she had lived at the Y. W. C. A. under the name of Anna Vigar. In a hand bag the manuscript of a fiction story was found.

Police are searching for a motive for the alleged kidnapping as the Minkins are not wealthy in the term it is ordinarily used.

COTTON EXPORTS. WASHINGTON, March 10.—Cotton exports during January totaled $65,856,496 compared with $45,333,068 for the corresponding month last year, the department of commerce announced today. There were 478,448 bales exported in January compared with 475,910 in the same month last year.

salary bill of Senator McDonald, San Francisco. The measure has already been given the approval of the upper house committee on education.

Supervisors from all sections of the state, here in attendance at their annual convention are visiting the capitol during their idle moments. The governor's office was well filled with the county officials yesterday afternoon, calling to pay their respects to the executive.

Mrs. Nellie B. Pierce, member of the board of control, addressed a meeting of local club women yesterday. She explained certain provisions of the biennial budget, admitting that it "is by no means perfect" but declared it is as nearly so as the three weeks allowed for its framing would permit.

The senate committee on public health and quarantine will next Thursday night consider new housing laws proposed by Senators Inman and Burnett. Six other measures are also slated for discussion at the same time.

COURT SCORES MEN AS HE FREES THEM

Jesse Kirkpatrick and Carroll Crabbs, who pleaded guilty to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old girl, were on probation today, under what were regarded as some of the strictest provisions ever made by a judge in Orange county.

Superior Judge Z. B. West, in granting their pleas for lenience, forcefully arraigned the young men and warned them that their first misstep would mean the revocation of probation.

Under the requirements, the men will have to report to the probation officer once a month for five years. They cannot play cards or gamble in any way, they must not enter a billiard hall, they cannot engage in any form of "joy rides," nor drink intoxicating liquor during that time.

It was only after Probation Officer R. R. Miller had pleaded in behalf of the lads, that the court granted their request.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who is facing a charge of battery as a result of an alleged argument with a garage mechanic here several weeks ago, went as she heard the court scathingly arraign her husband.

CITY'S GROWTH SEEN BY RAILROAD BOARD

Pointing out that the city of Santa Ana is rapidly growing, and that, therefore, "no unreasonable barriers should be thrown in the way of its development," the railroad commission issued an order granting the city authority to construct Myrtle street at grade across the tracks of the Pacific Electric Railway company, according to word received here today.

In the opinion accompanying the order the commission warns the city that should a heavy railroad traffic develop it would clearly be the duty of the commission to revoke permission for the maintenance of this crossing.

EXCAVATION FOR 'Y' BUILDING TO BEGIN

T. W. Oglesby is prepared to begin work Monday on excavations for the basement of the new Y. M. C. A. building to be built at the northwest corner of Sycamore and Church streets, Ralph Smedley, building secretary, announced today.

The basement is to be 114x124 feet and in general will be five feet below the surface, with the boiler room nine feet below and the swimming pool sixteen feet. The contractor is expected to complete the excavation within three weeks.

U. S. MAY GET PAY FOR RHINE FORCES

PARIS, March 10.—The allies suggested today that the $24,000,000 spent by America on its army of occupation might be reimbursed when Germany resumes reparations payments.

The French, British, Belgian and Italian delegates joined in making the suggestion, it was officially stated.

The allies, it was officially explained suggested that the United States should be paid a percentage of future German reparations as reimbursement for the cost of the army of occupation.

It is understood the reimbursement would be over a period of twelve years without interest.

POSES AS OFFICER, RETURNS TO PRISON

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—E. F. Johnson, four times a convict, will begin his fifth sentence soon, having been found guilty of impersonating a federal prohibition officer at Bramley.

Johnson attempted to get an appointment to the dry force from Agent Dan O'Leary stationed here, but O'Leary told him he was not eligible because of his previous record.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB PLANS SPEEDY

Plans for the organization of a business and professional women's club in Santa Ana were going forward today, following an initial meeting of the organizing committee last night.

Carefully formulating what was regarded as the wisest possible plan, the committee will make a thorough investigation of what similar clubs are doing and of other organization schemes, and expect to announce the local plans early next week.

The movement is said to be one of the most progressive steps taken by the local women. Interested citizens were commenting today on the value of such a club to the community and to club members.

JUBILEE SINGERS' PROGRAM PLEAS

Students and friends of the junior high school here were today chuckling with reminiscent pleasure over the amusing features of last night's entertainment given by the California Jubilee Quartette which gave pleasure to several hundred persons gathered at the assembly room of junior high school.

It was a program of varying features, for the colored songsters proved to have several "tricks up their sleeves." Their quartette numbers were delightful and varied from the classic to an amusing rendition of "The Steamboat Is Coming Around the Bend" with its accompanying imitations of everything from a donkey's bray to the whistle and callopie of the boat itself.

While Stewart, the pianist, played accompaniments in addition to his excellent solo numbers, variety was given by guitar accompaniments while the clever dialect readings and the cartoons added immeasurably to entertaining features.

ORGANIST, SINGER DELIGHT AUDIENCE

Delighting an appreciative audience at the First Presbyterian church here last night, James H. Shearer, celebrated Scottish concert organist, today had virtually completed arrangements with the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the church, for a return engagement next year.

Shearer, whose taste is as fine as his art, played with great vigor the famous old Bach concerto and gave a number of Scotch fantasies. "Highland Romance," the organist's own composition, scored a distinct hit.

Annie Strubbe Shearer, wife of the organist, contributed a repertoire of English and French songs, including "J'ai Pleure en Reve," which was roundly applauded. Her Scotch numbers, as well as her French Canadian songs, were given with a spontaneity that was contagious. Many Santa Ana music lovers remained after the concert to congratulate the artist.

Shearer, who will give a concert in Riverside Sunday, will leave for the Pacific Northwest in the near future, ending his present tour in New York in August. While in Riverside he will probably play, by request, at Glenwood Mission Inn.

"The Shearers gave a delightful concert," said the Rev. Mr. Roberts, "and we will be overjoyed to have them with us again next year."

DISCUSS CITRUS BUYING.

Citrus spraying will be discussed by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, at a meeting of the Buena Park farm center Monday night, it was announced today.

$5725 PLEDGED FOR BOOSTER CLUB FUND

of that early work reflected in the bustling metropolis of today, A. B. Roussele, subdivider, of this city, said that Santa Ana should go to the fountainhead, Los Angeles, for its new citizens, and that strangers in that city who were seeking homes could be reached through advertising in publications in that city.

"I believe part of the profits we make in business here should be given to advancing our community," said Roussele. He is one of the men who have pledged $500.

Editor Backs Movement
When called on to respond to the toast, "Why My Subscription to the Advertising Fund?" J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register, said:

"I might answer that question with a grain of truth by saying that A. B. Roussele and Everett White talked the subscription out of me. But, of course, that would not be the whole truth. I made my subscription because I believe in the movement—believe that it is good and sound in every respect—and because I feel it to be a duty, as well as a pleasure, to contribute according to my means to any public spirited enterprise of this kind. I also believe that there is something bigger and better in this movement than merely the raising of an advertising fund and its judicious expenditure. This greater Santa Ana Club, with its executive committee made up of men chosen by the several clubs and organizations of the city, ought to be able to crystallize and capitalize to the fullest possible extent the spirit of enthusiasm and optimism and faith that has been engendered in the several individual clubs and through them throughout the entire community."

Mr. Baumgartner was one of those who subscribed five hundred dollars to the fund.

"Advertising a City" was the subject assigned to S. H. Creager, Los Angeles advertising expert, who prepared copy for the Greater Santa Monica club advertisements. He declared that by advertising it is possible to raise a city to a higher plane.

"Says All Should Join.
"Every man, woman and child should be a member of the club," he said. "You cannot conceive the possible results of advertising."

D. Eymann Huff, manager of the David Hewes Realty corporation, recapitulating briefly annual returns from county products, referred to the fact that the county produces and ships more Valencia oranges and lemons than any other county in the world, and that Santa Ana ships more walnuts than any other single point in the world. He said that with harbor development, publicity and co-operation, this community could be made one of the greatest in the state. He pointed out that residents of every community in the county could well afford to contribute to the program of the club.

Kellogg Boosts County.
F. W. Kellogg, publisher of a chain of papers in Southern California, including the Santa Ana News, declared that he could vision here "one of the greatest cities in the Southland group and in the richest county in the world." He said that E. L. Doheny, one of the biggest oil operators in the state, had told him more wealth was coming out of the soil in Orange county than from any similar piece of ground in the world.

Pointing out that Pasadena has in its city limits an area of forty-five square miles, he said that a section of forty-five square miles here would include the cities of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. He predicted that the main thoroughfares between these cities would in time be built up solidly with business houses.

The publisher made a pledge of $350 on behalf of the News and a full page advertisement in each of his various publications.

All-Year Man Speaks.

C. G. Milham, a rapid fire and enthusiastic talker, as secretary of the All-Year club of Southern California, told what that organization is doing to increase summer travel to California. With the club spending $200,000 in advertising last year, and duplicating that amount this year, the secretary predicted an influx of summer visitors by the thousands.

"We are bringing the people to California, and it is up to you to get your share of them," the secretary said.

Glen Palmer, of Alhambra, said that community is preparing to take care of a population of 50,000 by 1930, and the club of that city was devoting itself to development of plans for meeting the requirements of such population.

Newton Thornton, architect who recently settled in Santa Ana, said it was like playing blind man's bluff to come to Los Angeles and then look for a home. His point was that no effort was being made, or had not been made in the past, by communities to set forth in Los Angeles papers the advantages they offer to persons seeking new homes.

Freeman H. Bloodgood, statistician for the Santa Ana Realty board, told of some of the possibilities of developing industrials and pointed to the necessity for inducing location of manufacturing plants if the population of this community is to continue to increase. He introduced a group of men who are now investigating conditions here with a view to location of a manufacturing plant, and spoke of the possibility of the local woolen mills being reopened.

R. L. Wisley officiated as toastmaster, and in his usual clever way put the program over big.

The Santa Ana high school orchestra played during the dinner hour. The musical program closed with vocal numbers by Maurice Phillips.

TROOPERS LEAVE S. A. AFTER NIGHT'S STAY

After an overnight visit in Santa Ana, during which time the men encamped in the city auto park on North Main street, Troop "F," Eleventh cavalry, pulled up this morning and started on the next lap of their hike which should bring them to Whittier before nightfall.

With seventy-six enlisted men—a goodly portion of them fine appearing young boys—and two officers, the troop attracted favorable comment as it passed through the city about 2 p. m. yesterday.

Captain G. J. F. Heron was in command, with Captain B. C. Andrus, an old friend of Santa Anans, second in command.

The troop was just finishing a two-year sojourn on the border. For the past year the organization has been the only one between Yuma, Ariz., and the ocean, Andrus said.

Baker's Cocoa

is the ideal drink
for growing children

Not only does its delicious flavor and aroma appeal to the palate but it supplies the body with a considerable amount of pure, wholesome and nutritious food.

Children, owing to their almost ceaseless activity, frequently require as large an amount of nourishment as adults, and good cocoa is a valuable aid in the carefully arranged diet.
But its quality must be good and no cocoa can quite so well meet the requirements of dietitian, physician, nurse or housekeeper as "BAKER'S."

tendent, today left to spend the weekend at Santa Monica, where he will combine business with the pleasure of a visit with friends.
He expected to return with data of importance with regard to the new junior high school at Santa Monica that will be of value in planning the junior high school here.

COURT RECORD

CASES HEARD

Superior Judge Z. B. West was telling today of the record established in department one of the superior court yesterday by himself and Clerk Earl Abbey.

According to the judge, seventy-three matters came before him for judicial notice. This number is the greatest to have been disposed of in one day in the history of Orange county legal affairs, it was said.

Two weeks ago, sixty-three cases were attended to in Judge West's court, and at that time, that figure was a record.

Of yesterday's number, eleven were criminal matters which required some little time to hear.
The rest included probate procedure, matters on the "law and motion" calendar, divorce and other civil cases.

In Judge R. Y. Williams' department the number was not so great, because of the nature of the cases. Matters pertaining to injunction proceedings and the like were taken up, and in many instances, several hours were occupied with one case. Even here the total exceeded thirty.

"Anyone who doubts the need of another department in superior court, should heed this record," Judge West pointed out. "The calendar is filled many weeks in advance, and when as many as seventy-three are attended to in a day, it keeps us busy."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

CROWDS WATCH 250 CYCLISTS IN PARADE

BY TOM LEWIS

The lordly limousine was pushed into the background today.
And the ubiquitous filver went into total eclipse.

For one fleeting hour, the bicycle was king.

Which is to say that Fred St.
Onge, who is the forerunner of spring and is known from coast to coast in his glory.

Once ever so often, the genial St. Onge comes to town. And when he does, the king of the road comes into his own.

St. Onge, who represents the Cycle Trades of America, thinks bicycles, knows bicycles, rides bicycles, and boosts bicycles. What Muhpry is to the motor car, St.
Onge is to the humble bike.

At so today Fred, astride his towering, old-time wheel, was generalissimo of a colorful parade in honor of the bike and the bike rider.

Success? Absolutely!

Was the parade a success?

Absolutely!

And pretty?

Pretty isn't the name for it.

In the first place, there were two hundred and fifty cyclists in line.
They ranged in age from the young gentleman of 5 to the young gentleman of 75.

And colorful? Superlatives fail!
Some of the boys and girls, representing virtually every school in Santa Ana, spent hours in decorating their bikes. The result was strikingly beautiful, some of the effects winning the hearty applause of hundreds of spectators assembled to witness the annual bicycle parade.

One bright-faced Miss of ten, garbed in an orange-colored frock and riding a steed decorated in orange and gold, topped off with calla lilies, was the magnet which drew all eyes.

Another carried out a blue color scheme, still another went in strong for green, and yet another preferred pure white. There were flowers in profusion. Boy Scouts in abundance, an elderly clown all rigged out in yellow, and a beautiful blonde lassie, wearing khaki trousers, and astride a bike of ancient vintage.

The tandem and the bike that carries four, the modern bike, and the bike that wasn't so modern,
these and many others trailed St.
Onge in his annual pilgrimage.

Following the downtown parade, which started from St. Ann's Inn at 11 a. m., St. Onge and his 250 enthusiasts trundled to the high school, where St. Onge gave a talk on "safety first," and beautiful prizes were awarded the girl and boy riders.

100 CYCLISTS IN LINE

IN ORANGE PARADE

More than 100 cyclists, ranging in age from 7 to 77 years, were in line at Orange late yesterday when bicycle dealers of that city staged a decorated wheel parade under the leadership of Fred St. Onge, representing the Cycle Trades of America.

The oldest rider was R. J. Fyfe, aged 77, who told St. Onge that he had been riding a bicycle 43 years.
He won first prize in the oldest rider division.

First to sixth prizes, inclusive, in the decorated wheel division went, respectively, to the following, all of Orange:

Dorothy Rasmussen, 624 South
Orange; Francis Hutchins, Troop
3, Boy Scouts; Shirley Haynes, 163
North Center Street; Frances Hutchinson, 336 South Orange; Francis Travis Filppen, and Claire Tarvin, 141 West Walnut.

Wilma Stanfield, R. D. No. 1, Orange, won the first prize offered for the youngest rider, and Grace Hoefler won the one offered for the girl presenting the neatest appearance.

Others who won various prizes and honorable mention were Dewain Sunberry, 243 South Central street, Orange; Frank Miles, Scout Troop 2, Orange; Grace Hoefler, 2219 Grand avenue; Evelyn Hoefler, and Lavina Compton, R. D., Orange.

BANK VAULT PRISONER

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

PATERSON, N. J., March 10.—
Charles Di Giacom, bank clerk, who for four hours was locked in an air tight vault in the People's Park bank, today was still suffering from a form of "shell shock," induced by the din of the sledge hammers and automatic drills which were used to effect his release.

Gradually he is becoming able to speak, but lying in his hospital bed, still uses a pad and pencil to make known his wants.

DAY IN CITY'S POLITICS IS SERENE

No surprises were sprung here today in the matter of petitions for candidates for membership on the city council, according to Ed
Vegey, city clerk.

The day developed a new candidate for city recorder, Edgar L.
Finch, electrician, residing at 122
Halladay. Finch took out a nomination petition this forenoon.

In connection with rumors that he is to be a candidate from the Fourth ward for the city council, George W. Angle, expert accountant, said today that he is not a candidate. He said that two months ago a committee from the West Side Improvement association discussed with him the subject of advancing him as a candidate.

"I am not in politics and do not expect to become a candidate for the city council," said Angle.

McPhee Petition Filed.

Nominating petitions for George McPhee, Fourth ward candidate for the council, and for J. W.
Tubbs, for the Second ward, have been filed with the clerk. It was expected today that Nat Neff would file his petition Monday as a candidate for the council from the Fifth ward.

Friends of Tubbs who are expressing their satisfaction over the fact that Tubbs was persuaded to become a candidate for re-election today called attention to a remarkable record held by Tubbs.

That record consists of attendance at meetings of the board of city trustees.

In eight years as trustee, Tubbs has missed but two Monday night meetings of the council, it was declared today.

"When I was elected eight years ago," said Tubbs, when asked if it were true that he had attended ninety-nine and eight-tenths percent of the meetings of the council since 1915, "the city board as a rule met twice a month, the first and third Mondays, and on the last Friday of the months to go over the bills."

City Business Grows.

"The business, on the city has grown and projects of various kinds have been called for detailed attention, with the result that for the past two or three years the council has met virtually every Monday night."

In the first four-year term Tubbs missed one meeting and that was because he was in the Good Sammaritan hospital in Los Angeles.
The meeting following, he was called to the council to complete a vote necessary to put over the first proceedings in the attempt to improve Bristol street. He attended the council meeting at the risk of serious results to his health.

In the last term he missed one meeting last summer. This absence was due to the fact that he was at Bear Valley on his vacation.

VIGILANTES AT

MESA TO CURB
HEN THEFTS?

Chicken thieves in the Costa Mesa district today were considering the qualities of discretion and valor.

Sam Jernigan, sheriff of Orange county, gave a talk to the poultrymen of the Costa Mesa farm center last night on what was within the law when chicken thieves were found.

Following his talk sundry remarks were heard as to forming a poultrymen's vigilance committee, armed with saved-off shotguns.

The Costa Mesa farm center today adopted a resolution urging the Orange county farm bureau to organize a poultrymen's protective association, according to H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

KFAW, The Register radio phone, will broadcast a well-balanced musical program Monday night from 8:30 to 7:30 o'clock. The numbers will be given by pupils of the Sherwood School of Music. The young artists participating have been preparing their respective offerings for the past week and it is expected that the many listeners who tune in with KFAW will hear some worthwhile entertainment.

The Sherwood School program will offer the following numbers:

1. Piano solo, Tales of Hoffman—
Bernice Davis, pupil of Miss G.
Harris.

2. Whistling solo, selected—Mrs.
Irma Keir.

3. Violin solo, Mazurka in G, by Mlynarski—Georgia Belle Walton, pupil of Elwood Baer.

4. Recitation, selected — Bobby Brown, pupil of Mrs. Beulah Hilton.

5. Piano duet, "The Coming of Santa Claus"—Miss Georgia Harris and Bernice Davis.

This program will be supplemented by a ten-minute talk by Freeman H. Bloodgood, who will explain the plans and purposes of the Greater Santa Ana club, which has just been organized to build a bigger and better Santa Ana.

The concluding number will be the bedtime stories by Eleanor Young Elliott.

TEMPERATURE 3 WEEKS

ESCANABA Mich., March 10.— Miss Evelyn Lyons, suffering from a fever of more than 114 for three weeks, was considerably weaker today and appeared to be losing her appetite. She ate only a little broth. Physicians reported her temperature at 115 and pulse at 120 today.

LEY ON TIRES AND NOT GAS. MAN URGES

Criticizing the board of supervisors for their asserted attitude in favoring the gasoline tax as a means of supporting the state and county highways, and suggesting a tax on tires as an alternative, G. B. Darnell today filed a communication on the matter with County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Darnell expressed his regret that the board should have expressed itself in favor of the gasoline tax.

"Fully 50 per cent of the cars on the road are the small machines which cause no damage," Darnell wrote. "I would suggest a tax of 20 per cent on all tires under 3 1/2 inches in diameter. On other tires up to 5 inches, a 30 per cent tax should be placed, and a varying tax up to 75 per cent on larger tires.

"It is the heavy machine which damages the road, and in this manner, the heavier machine would pay."

The communication will be read before the supervisors Tuesday.

NEW FINANCIAL

AT ORANGE

Opening of the First Commercial bank at Orange today was one of the features of the day's business activity of that city.

According to R. R. Rees, vice president, a large number of account were opened by residents of the community. Many beautiful floral pieces were sent in by business firms and friends of the new financial institution.

The bank remained open all afternoon and will continue to receive friends until 7 o'clock this evening, Rees announced.

Mojave Wells

The director of the United States Geological survey announces that tables concerning wells in the Mojave River valley have been filed in the district office of the United States Geological survey, 602 Federal building, Los Angeles, where they may be consulted by any one who may be interested in them. The tables show the depth of the wells, the depth to water, and the yield, so far as known, of about 650 wells, and are supplemented by chemical analysis of water from about 45 wells and springs, and by logs of selected wells. These tables, logs and analyses cover the entire valley, from the San Bernardino mountains to Silver Lake, as well as the Mojave and Harper valleys. They supplement a report on the ground-water resources of the Mojave River valley already on file in the office of the Geological survey in Los Angeles, and form a part of a comprehensive report on the ground-water resources of the entire Mojave desert region which is now in preparation by the Geological survey.

Mortality Figures

The Department of Commerce announces that provisional figures compiled by the bureau of the census for the first nine months of 1922 indicate slightly higher death rates than for the corresponding nine months of 1921. For the states compared the death rate for the nine months was 11.7 in 1922 against 11.6 for the first nine months of 1921. The highest mortality rate for the nine months is shown for Maine (14.2) and the lowest for Idaho (7.8).

Holy Land Bandits

As a result of the excellent roads which have been constructed by the French in Syria and by the British in Palestine, you can travel from Beirut to Jerusalem by motor car quite comfortably in a single day.

We employed for the trip a young New Zealander, a former aviator, who between Beirut and Jerusalem has established a regular bus service with half a dozen American-made steam cars. (All aboard for Sidon, Tyre, Acre, Mount Carmel, Caesarea, Nablus, Nazareth, Jerusalem and other points in Phenicia, Samaria, Galilee and the Promised Land!)

South of Sidon—a mud walled village surrounded by acres and acres of olives, oranges and mulberries—the road passes through a sort of defile formed by two ranges of hills.

"I was nearly killed right here a few trips back," our driver remarked nonchalantly, as we entered the defile. "Some Arabs ambushed me and put 17 bullets in the car and two or three through my hat. But there isn't much danger now," he added reassuringly as I drew my automatic around where I could get at it more readily. "Sometimes I make three or four trips running without anything happening. If things keep on as they're going, life here will be so tame pretty soon that it won't be interesting."—E. Alexander Powell, in Harper's Magazine.

Wide Range Voice

At a recent meeting of the Austrian Society of Experimental Phonetics in Vienna, reported in the Scientific American, Dr. Rethl presented, Michael Prita, 44 years of age, whose voice possessed the remarkable range of five complete octaves. The deepest note uttered by this singer was a bass F, corresponding to 42 vibrations per second, and two octaves lower, therefore, than the deepest note which can be produced on the violin. The only previous record of so low a tone in the human voice is that of a bass singer named Fischer, who lived in the early part of the 18th century.

Mr. Prita also rendered upper C with its full artistic value. Beyond that the notes passed into the head register and into a falsetto resembling a soprano. The highest notes emitted were the upper F (semi-semi-quaver), and on exceptional occasions upper A (semi-semi-quaver), corresponding to 1740 vibrations per second, which is one note higher than the highest sung by Patti. After the exhibition of Mr. Prita's remarkable voice, Prof. Rethl made some observations upon the structure of the larynx and the noteworthy breadth and comparative shortness of the vocal chords. The phonogram, or graphic voice record produced by the singer, will be preserved.

The other day two women, one of whom was very deaf were walking by the railway. Suddenly an express train rushed by, and as it passed the engine gave a double shriek that seemed to rend the sky. The deaf one turned to her friend and remarked with a happy smile: "That's the first cuckoo I've heard this year."

A Dead Heat
Speed Fiend—"Well, I'm afraid that train will beat us to the crossing."

Passenger—"That's not what I'm afraid of. It might be a tie."

Sunshine ought to begin where the honeymoon leaves off.

HISTORIC FORT HIT BY $100,000 BLAZE

WASHINGTON, Marc 10.—Forteen men, most of them soldiers, were injured when a fire, late last night, swept through historic Fort Meyer, Va.

Eight buildings of the fort, which adjoins Arlington national cemetery and stands on the Virginia hills just across the Potomac from Washington, were burned. For a time the entire post was threatened. The loss is estimated at about $100,000.

I've often stopped to wonder at fate's peculiar ways; For nearly all our famous men Were born on holidays.

Wm. Jennings Bryan's Weekly Bible Talk

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, (Luke 23:33-46).

Many are the lessons for us crowded in Luke's simple, yet graphic, account of the Crucifixion; I shall discuss only what seems to me to be the more important.

First, the prayer from the Cross: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

It was primarily an appeal for those at whose hands He was suffering the most cruel of punishments and the most disgraceful of deaths, but it has a far wider application. Christ gave a reason for forgiveness, viz., ignorance, which has not been sufficiently emphasized.

Ignorance of facts lies at the foundation of most misunderstandings.

People equally honest and equally well meaning will fall out and become enemies for years, sometimes for life, because they have not understood the facts alike. Sometimes prejudice will close the mind to truth that would otherwise be apparent—and, being apparent, would reconcile differences.

Christ pleads for forgiveness because these rulers of industry to Him did not know the truth and, therefore, did not realize what they were doing.

Causes of Enmity.

Ignorance of each other often makes enemies out of people who should be friends. Travel has in it a political and social value because it makes people acquainted with each other and acquaintance reveals kinship.

People may differ vastly in wealth and widely in education, but they are much alike at heart. Each, according to the light that he has, is doing the best that he can. Temptations may lead us astray, but the heart of mankind is sound. It is the only thing that can be appealed to everywhere with any prospect of success.

Association discloses similarities and draws people together. If they fall out, it is usually because of misinterpretations and misconstructions—they know not what they do.

Difference in ideals is a fruitful cause of enmity.

Those who live upon a low plane are satisfied because they do not know a higher plane. Some know nothing but the flesh and the pleasures that come through the flesh. They cannot understand how the things that delight them do not bring pleasure to the intellectual and the spiritual.

A World Sealed at the Top.

Christ opened up a world infinitely larger than that known to the worshippers of the body—vastly larger than that known to worshippers of the mind, and He did this without subtracting from the enjoyments furnished by the mind and body.

It would be amusing, if it were not so serious, to hear people boast of being more "liberal" than Christians.

They pronounce judgment against things which they do not understand. Because they have no receivers attuned to the throne of God, they miss the music of the heavenly choir and, walking with their faces to the ground, see not the things celestial.

The Paramount Need.
Education—not mere training of the mind and polishing of the intellect, but an enlightenment that enables one to take in all of God's world and to be sensitive to divine suggestions—this is the paramount need.

"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do," will increasingly be the prayer of Christians as the spirit of the Master permeates the life of His followers.

But we must pass on. The rulers witnessing the Crucifixion scoffed at Him, saying, "He saved others; let Him save Himself."

To those who did not understand Christ's philosophy that seemed like a plausible rebuke. Counting self as the center, they reasoned that, if Christ could save others, He could, of course first save Himself.

It never occurred to them that One who came to seek and to save the world must necessarily neglect Himself. His life was the price of our salvation by His stripes we are healed.

Those who mocked had not caught the spirit of Jesus; they regarded Him as a pretender, an aspirant for an earthly throne who did not manifest the ambition of a king or have the following to compel obedience to His will.

Saving by Sacrifice.

And yet, at no point is the superiority of Christ's philosophy more clearly demonstrated. "Whoever will save his life shall lose it; and whoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it."

Paradoxical as it may seem, those who think only of their own lives and avoid the sacrifices that duty calls for lead very little lives, while those who give themselves for causes greater than themselves find a much larger life than that which they are willing to surrender.

The patriot saves others by sacrificing himself; the Christian cannot consider the effect upon himself when called to some service to mankind. Wendell Phillips has expressed the same thought in different language:

"How prudently most men sink into nameless graves; while now and then a few forget themselves into immortality."

Christ set the example and multitudes have followed in His footsteps.

Last Minute Repentance.
Still another lesson is to be drawn from the penitent thief upon the cross.

To make Christ's death the more humiliating, two malefactors were hanged with Him—they are elsewhere described as robbers. One of them joined in the railing of the rulers and the soldiers, but the other rebuked him, saying that they, the thieves, suffered justly "for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this man hath done nothing amiss."

Then, addressing Jesus, he pleaded, "Remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom." To which our Lord replied, "To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise."

The phrase, "deathbed repentance," might well have been invented to describe the thief's change of heart if it did not actually suggest the phrase.

The possibility of salvation at the very moment of dissolution is questioned by those who reject Christianity; it is questioned by those who believe that God must be approached by slow degrees. But Christ's teachings are replete with proof that the forgiveness of sin can be instantaneous, and forgiveness would be of little value if it did not bring with it release from sin, however great and for however long a period.

The Impossible Not Required.
If one lives after he is forgiven, he is expected to bring forth works meet for repentance, but this is impossible when death follows immediately, and God does not require the impossible.

Man may sometimes doubt the sincerity of one who professes repentance in the presence of death, but Christ could look into the heart of His companion in suffering and see there the genuine suffering that justifies the washing of one's sins away.

And we must not overlook the fact that the thief upon the Cross had given all the proof within his power.

While the other robber joined the rulers in scoffing, this one dared to take the side of the crucified Christ, and not only defended the Saviour, but, recognizing His Messiahship, begged not to be forgotten by Him.

Even a hardhearted man would have been touched by such a faith; how could Christ be unmoved?

It is one of the chief merits of Christianity that it offers pardon up to the last moment. Christ's salvation is for ALL, from EVERY sin, throughout every MOMENT of man's sojourn upon the earth.

The Light Eternal.
And what shall we say of the death of Christ?

The crime committed against the Saviour was so deepened for the land was darkened for the space of three hours. The light of the sun was shut out and the veil of the temple was rent in twain, but the light from that bloodstained cross has been shining ever since and it will never be dimmed.

"It is finished." The work which Christ came to do on earth was completed and He commended His spirit to the Father, from whom He came and unto whom He returned.

He was "the pivot upon which the ages turned." He was the fact to which a chosen people looked forward for many centuries and to which an increasing multitude look back as the greatest fact in history.

He is the growing figure of all time; there is no other growing figure in all the world today save Christ.

The tree upon which He hung has been transformed into an emblem of service and into a sign of victory.

Suffering, not selfishness, moves the world; sacrifice, willingly endured for others, has a potency of which force and violence cannot boast. The Cross stands for an infinite love, expressed in measureless sacrifice, and glorified by forgiveness that knows no bounds. (Copyright, 1923, by The Republic Syndicate.)

Wedding In Anaheim Attracts Friends From Santa Ana

A wedding ceremony of interest to many Santa Ana people because of the fact that the groom is well known in this, the city of his birth, is that of Miss Frieda Catherine Heineman of Anaheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heyman D. Heineman, and Douglas Gordon McPhee, which will be solemnized this evening at eight o'clock at the Zion Lutheran church, Anaheim.

Mr. McPhee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McPhee, formerly of this city, now residents of Santa Ana, California, "O Promise Me." Mr. McPhee will have Merle McGinnis, of San Diego for his best man, and for ushers will be William Taylor and Kemper Taylor, Santa Ana; George Brown, Paul Brumington, Fred Ford and Robert Berkley. The bride will be gowned in white satin, chantilly lace trimmed, with the conventional veil, garlanded with orange blossoms.

Mr. and Mrs. Heineman are to entertain with a reception following the service at the church, and a number of Santa Anans are driving over for the wedding and reception. Following their short wedding journey, the destination of which is being kept a secret from their friends, Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will occupy a colonial bungalow on Ninth street, Santa Ana, which has just been completed for them.

Youthful Matron Greets Friends at Smart Little Dinner

The charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. McPadden, 313 East Seventeenth street, offered a pleasant rendezvous to a friendly group of young people who met to dine Thursday night at the invitation of the hostess.

Baskets of spring blossoms were arranged over the snowy linen and places were indicated by gay little colonial maids and men seated for the enjoyment of the delectable menu were Mr. and Mrs. McPadden, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Swindle, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peak, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whitney, Mrs. Oda Eardley, Miss Marjory Ellis, Charles Davis and Major M. Burr Wellington.

Following the dinner, card tables were arranged and bridge offered an entertaining evening. Miss Marjory Ellis scored high and received a pretty gift, while a prize award was also made Major Wellington, who held honors among the men.

Music Section

Arranged by Mrs. Victor Montgomery, the regular program to be presented Monday afternoon at 2:30 before members of Ebell Music section will offer the best of local talent in an afternoon of Irish music and feature numbers, celebrating St. Patrick's day, March 17.

Mrs. Theodore A. Winbigger will open her home, 207 East Ninth street, to the section and one of the most interesting afternoons of the club year is anticipated by the members.

Following the regular business session of Spurgeon P. T. A. held Thursday afternoon in the school kindergarten, children of the fourth and fifth grades rendered an excellent program which opened with a piano duet by Alice and Lois Lam.

A little play called "Functuality," given by Andrew Wilson, Billy Estes and Lynn Chamberlain was followed by the flag drill and it turned by a song group by all the children. Miss Margaret Eckle of the art language department, sang the song, "The P. T. A.," composed by a blind man in honor of the association and which will no doubt be adopted generally by the P. T. A.

Speaking on juvenile delinquents and causes of crime among boys and girls, R. R. Miller, county probation officer, held the interested attention of the assembled mothers. Miss Hunderston of San Diego, speaking on "Mal-Nutrition, Its Symptoms and Remedies," presented many ideas on foods for the growing child.

During the pleasant half hour following the program, light refreshments added to the air of sociability.

Relief Corps

Members and friends attending yesterday's entertaining session of the W. R. C. held at G. A. R. hall were delighted to hear the story of the life of St. Patrick, related by himself, in the person of O. H. Murray, while Mrs. Maryatt as St. Patrick's sweetheart, Nora Murphy, aided him in every way in making the tale thrilling.

The entire program was typically Irish, therefore delightful, it goes without saying. With Mrs. Estelle Ludwig at the piano, "The Wearin' o' the Green" was sung by a quartette composed of Mesdames Ludwig, Marie Mears, Carrie Adams and Lulu Moore. Gay Irish readings were given by Mrs. F. T. Porter, Mrs. Sarah Brown and Mrs. John Estes while Freda Moesser Barger played her own accompaniments and sang "Little Spot in Ireland" and "There's a Tear in Your Eye" to the marked pleasure of the guests.

To add variety to the program was the introduction of the dance number, "Irish Washerwoman" by Mrs. Mears and Mrs. Louise Potts with Mrs. Ludwig offering the musical setting.

Invited to the banquet hall, guests found the tables a symphony in green and white with shamrocks and pond-lilies arranged by the artistic hands of Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead. Appropriate refreshments were served by a committee of which Mrs. Emma Wright was chairman.

Gibson Gowland has come from London to play the leading role in Von Stroheim's "Greed." Gowland dug for gold in Africa and was a pick-and-shovel artist in Canada. He first met Von Stroheim in 1914. They were on a bench in front of the Griffith studio waiting for D. W. to call them as extras at $5 a day.

The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism

A remarkable book written by an authority who has spent more than 30 years of his life in study, research and experimentation in this distressing disease. One of the many new and startling facts which this distinguished writer clearly sets forth and proves is that Uric Acid never did and never can cause Rheumatism. That Uric Acid is a natural and necessary part of our blood—found even in every new-born babe—and that without it we could not live.

Every sufferer of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, Lumbago and associated disorders should read it. A limited edition is now being distributed free by the author and fortunately anyone faced the tribulations of her bearers with the stirring tale of "The Pot of Gold." Mrs. Roberts sang a pretty Irish melody with her young daughter at the piano.

Co-eds' Dancing Party Honoring St. Patrick Proves Happy Affair

One of the most successful affairs of the Junior College social world was that presented last night at the high school gymnasium when the woman's organization of the college entertained faculty members and the college men.

Previous to the affair, clever little invitations prepared by Miss Persana Deimling, secretary of the organization, were mailed the faculty members as honor guests. These expressed the sentiments of the season and St. Patrick continued to be feted in the general arrangements of the evening.

The gymnasium was completely transformed by ropes of smilax arranged by Miss Wilma Plavan and her decorating committee. The long room lost completely its individuality as a gymnasium and seemed instead the charmingly appointed interior of a spacious home. There the guests were received by Miss Frances Baker, president of the organization, and as strains of dance music sounded, dancing was enjoyed. The orchestra was composed of high school girls assembled and directed by Miss Ruth Vieira who was at the piano.

They gave a delightful program including two enjoyable elimination dances the first of which was won by Miss Claire Sharpless and Wilson Glazner whose shamrock cards bore the magical final numbers called. They received their whistles while in the second event, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northcross were the fortunate pair and received a clay pipe and a tiny shamrock basket.

Miss Baker arranged the evening's program while Miss Annette Lewis was head of the refreshment committee which served ice cream and cake in Ireland's own color. The clever little shamrock aprons and green caps. Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women, aided in all plans.

Faculty members present included the Misses Jennie Lasby, Mabel Whitting, Mary Harris, Isabel Anderson, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northcross and Edward M. Nealley, while fully eighty members of the student body enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

Afternoon Tea Is Great Success

Miss Vanche Plumb and her staff of teachers at Washington school were being congratulated today by friends of the school upon the unqualified success of the afternoon tea with which they instituted a series of like affairs at the handsome new school building.

The library was the chosen scene of the affair, and so great was the interest among friends of the school and the teachers, that spring blossoms, jonquills, daffodils, sweet peas, hyacinths and violets which they sent, made the room a blaze of color.

The tea table with its dainty service, was presided over by Miss Lula Cook while aiding her in dispensing "The cup that cheers" were the Misses Lillian Pumphrey and Zella Darnell.

Other hostesses who chatted with the succession of guests were Miss Plumb, principal of the school, and the Misses Lana Brakaw, Nellie Clinegan, Mary Carroll, Inez Craisenburg, Lulu Crooks and Grace Smiley. Nearly a hundred guests were greeted and to add to the interest was the fact that almost ten dollars was added to the treasury.

The teas will continue to be a monthly feature during the remainder of the school year.

Mateer Bible Class

Members of the Mateer Bible class of the First Presbyterian church greeted guests, dined pleasantly and were entertained with a most interesting program at a recent meeting in the church dining room.

The Rev. William Everett Roberts with Mrs. Roberts, Miss Mary Roberts and David Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis and M. B. Youel were honored guests and the social committee was commended upon its work in presenting so happy an affair.

The dinner, daintily prepared and served was followed by reading when Miss Eunice Jones gave a group of Eddie Guest's poems as did Mrs. John Estes who also offered the tribulations of her bearers with the stirring tale of "The Pot of Gold." Mrs. Roberts sang a pretty Irish melody with her young daughter at the piano.

Birthday Party Plans All Completed By Young Daughter

Mrs. W. M. Jackson of 1502 North Sycamore street, will long remember the pleasant features connected with her recent birthday which was celebrated by a happy little party all plans for which were made by her little ten-year old daughter, Etta Marie.

The affair was planned as a surprise and among other plans perfected by the young hostess was the serving of dainty refreshments of hot chocolate, candies, nuts, and a beautiful birthday cake made by the lassie herself to please and honor her mother. When these were served, Etta Marie took the opportunity to present her birthday gift, a cluster of roses made from crepe paper and, like the birthday cake, the work of her own clever little fingers.

The afternoon was a very happy one and sharing the pleasure with Mrs. Jackson and her capable little daughter were Mesdames J. L. McBride, W. J. Lieser, E. A. Stephens, E. G. Huntington, Lester Slaback, Frank Tedford, R. R. Ross, J. C. Lang, Walter Fine, Frank McCarter and Miss Rose Young.

Silver Cord Masons Plan Dancing Party For Eastern Star

Just a year ago, Santa Ana chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was successfully instituted in this city, and in celebration of the first anniversary of the baby chapter, members of Silver Cord lodge, F. and A. M. plan to entertain with a dancing and card party Monday night, March 12, at Masonic temple.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the event, it was today stated by Asa Hoffman, master Silver Cord. The party is the first social event which the Silver Cords have presented this season and with such an incentive, there is every reason to make it a never-to-be-forgotten occasion.

Those who prefer the quiet charm of a friendly game of cards will find tables arranged in the chapter room, while the ballroom will be the mecca for those more actively inclined. There, the music will be furnished by the popular Chapman orchestra, which combined with the excellent floor and Masonic hospitality, will offer invitation to all Masons and Star members.

"RACING HEARTS"

Agnes Ayres Appears in Film Which Opens Five-Day Run At West End Tomorrow

Agnes Ayres recently was twice arrested for speeding in California, and the event proved to be one of the most unusual coincidences ever heard of. The charming star is now playing "Racing Hearts," a picture, which comes to the West End theater tomorrow for a five day engagement. In the story, she is arrested for speeding, thus gaining a lot of free advertising for the automobiles manufactured by her father.

Although Miss Ayres has been driving automobiles for years, she is quite careful of traffic violations and had never been arrested for speeding. Before leaving the studios to film scenes for "Racing Hearts," she laughed over the fact that she had never been arrested for speeding and that she was to "try to be arrested" in the picture.

On the way to the location scenes where she was to be arrested for the camera, Miss Ayres drove the high-powered car she drives in "Racing Hearts." With the thought in mind that she must get used to a little better than ordinary speed, Miss Ayres stepped on the gas, watched her speedometer mount to forty miles an hour and heard the chug-chug of a motorcycle behind her. A minute later a snuff voice told her to "pull to one side." Miss Ayres was under arrest for speeding.

To add to the coincidence, she practiced being arrested for the camera the entire day. That evening she worked late and was hurrying home for an engagement which she feared she might miss. In the same high-powered car (for she had left her own at home) she was hitting a fast clip across country when, for the second time during the day, she was again overhauled by a motorcycle officer and was handed another tag for exceeding the speed limit.

"THE YOSEMITE TRAIL" AT YOST TONIGHT.

When Dustin Farnum comes to the Yost theater tonight in the production, "The Yosemite Trail," he will have a screen story particularly befitting his popular style of acting. The tale is set in the Yosemite valley and the cameraman took advantage of the magnificent scenery throughout the picture. An exciting series of events rises to a stirring climax calculated to quicken the pulse of even the most blasé of theatergoers.

The Yosemite valley, aptly called the playground of the gods, is well chosen as the scene of conflict between huge men who struggle for the things of existence. Although portraying primitive elements, this photoplay possesses much interest for the most critical motion picture audience.

age, efficient and devoted to duty is forced to give way to youth, is the central theme around which is woven the story of "The Ghost Patrol," the film play, which will be screened at the Princess theater tomorrow and Monday.

"MAN'S LAW AND GOD'S" AT YOST TOMORROW.

There is romance a-plenty in "Man's Law and God's" which is to be presented at the Yost theater tomorrow and in which Jack Livingstone and Ethel Shannon are featured. The story is one primarily of a courtship by proxy, started as a pastime by a lonesome old bachelor miner without knowledge or consent of the young man whose personality he assumes, which, becoming the one big serious thing in the life of the girl concerned, later brings to its fulfillment another romance started thirty years previously.

Lucille LaVerne and Jane Thomas will support Mae Marsh in "The White Rose."

GASOLINE LEVY WITH TAX FOR LICENSES IS FAVORED

California Auto Tradesmen Approve Both To Raise Highway Money

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Take Stand That Roads In State Need Widening, Improvement

A tax on gasoline with maintenance of the present license fee based on horsepower, is favored by the California Automobile Trades association, according to resolutions adopted at the northern division convention held at Oakland recently. The resolutions, however, were indefinite as to the amount.

Discussions disclosed that the delegates were favorable to maintenance of the present fee with a gasoline tax added to increase the revenue of the state highway commission so that roads can be repaired, widened, and made adequate for the transportation needs of the state.

Tells Peril.
Walter B. Fawcett, vice president of the association and chairman of the legislative committee, pointed out that if the bill now before the legislature providing a gas tax in lieu of the fee was passed and then held in abeyance by referendum action, and that the motor vehicle act as now constituted were ruled out, there would be no provision for running the motor vehicle department and that the state would be in a bad way for some time.

Gas Tax Not Opposed.
It was shown that there is virtually no opposition to a gasoline tax and that the present system of

New Company Will Finance Auto Dealers of County

Regarding Orange county as one of the safest communities in which to loan money, the Orange County Finance corporation today was completing plans to begin operations here as soon as legal formalities incident to incorporation are completed.

The purpose of the corporation will be to finance automobile dealers and handle time sales contracts for them.

J. H. Breckenridge, forty years secretary of the Irvine company, is one of the men interested in the new organization. It probably will be two months before the corporation will be ready for business.

According to the statement of a member of the company, it is not a stock-selling proposition.

NEW COMPANY HERE TO HANDLE RACINE COMPANY PRODUCTS

Robert Pearce, who has been with the Jess Goodman tire service for some time, today opened his new tire store and agency at 113-15 North Sycamore street.

Opening of the enterprise has been delayed by weather conditions which interrupted work on the new building in which Pearce is located.

Pearce will handle the Racine tire line. He says he will have a complete stock, and will be equipped to take care of the requirements of users of the Racine tire.

He contemplates adding another make of tires, so as to offer patrons a wide range of prices.

SEES NO VALUE IN TRUCK TAX PROPOSAL

S. A. Operator Says Public Would Suffer If Bill Becomes Law

"Place a tax where they may,
the public pays the bill."

This was the comment today of George W. Young, of the Van Dusen Young company, operator of a large fleet of trucks, on a bill introduced in the senate by Senator F. A. Arbutkule, of Santa Barbara, proposing a tax of 7 per cent on the gross receipts of all operators of motor vehicles who receive compensation.

The tax is proposed as an addition to all other taxes that state legislators may impose on the owners of motor vehicles.

"Any tax that is imposed on commercial motor truck transportation will be passed to the consumer," declared Young. "It is the natural sequence."

Measure Told.
Senator Arbutkule's measure would apply not only to what are known as franchised motor carriers but to all operators of "for hire" vehicles, which would include the vast majority of motor trucks now in use. It also would place this type of operators under the jurisdiction and control of the state railroad commission.

"Without full knowledge of the provisions of Arbutkule's bill, and taking snap judgment," Young states, "I would say that cost of collecting the 7 per cent tax would eat up nearly all the revenue."

"If the suggested gasoline and franchise taxes are imposed, I think the distribution of the funds should be changed from plans indicated by the bill."

Hits 60-50 Plan.
"As I understand the program, division is to be fifty-fifty between the state and counties. In my opinion the distribution should be 50 per cent to the counties and 25 per cent each to the state and the cities. The greater percentage of the revenue should be returned to the communities in which it originated."

In connection with Senator Arbutkule's bill, it is pointed out that a proposition making provisions similar to those incorporated in the bill appeared on the ballot at the recent general election in this state and was defeated by a vote of 499,458 to 136,271. It is believed that this fact in mind legislators will not support Arbutkule in his measure.

TALKS OF AUTO INDUSTRY ON RADIO WIRE

Manufacturer Declares One Person In Eight Owns
Car In U. S.

The importance of the automobile industry, the part motors play in transportation and the heavy tax the industry pays, was revealed to thousands of radio fans recently, when C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, broadcast from the Atlanta Journal station a message to all the world.

Pointing out that there are more than 12,000,000 motor cars and trucks in the nation, Nash said the average was one to every eight persons resident in this country.

"Of the total, 5,000,000 are concentrated in the states of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, California, Illinois and Michigan," said the manufacturer.

California Leads World.
Registration gains in these six states during 1922 surpassed the total registration of Great Britain and France combined. California leads the world with the greatest number of cars per person, owning one for every 4.10 inhabitants, or virtually one for every family.

"Notwithstanding the motor has become an essential, it has been singled out to pay a 5 per cent excise tax on automobiles and parts. It is taxed as though it were a luxury, whereas it is the world's most advanced and most economical method for performing the same functions as the wagon, the farm implement and other essentials that are viewed as necessities to industrial life."

Cites Staggering Total.
"I believe this tax, in the past two years has brought to this government the staggering total of from ninety to one hundred million dollars."

"What the motor car has done to link the Atlantic to the Pacific and the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes, it has repeated in bringing the American family into even closer union. The family that must live in the congested districts of the great metropolitan centers now is given the chance to enjoy the beautiful, natural sports of the country. Who among us is big enough to realize all that the motor car has accomplished? Truly, it is a mighty force in making our country a finer and better place in which to live."

PAIGE COMPANY IN RECORD PRODUCTION

The healthy condition of the motor industry is reflected by a comparison of the production and sales of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car company for the first two months of this year with 1922, according to Harry M. Jewett, president.

In January and February of 1923 the sales were 350 per cent greater than the first two months of the previous year. The production, planned in the expectation of the best possible market conditions for similar periods, was only 261 per cent greater, Jewett said.

As head of one of the ten automobile concerns in the United States which hold the position of manufacturing 90 per cent of the automobiles built in the United States, Jewett believes that the figures of the Paige company are representative of conditions in general in the industry.

DON'T TRY TO BEAT TRAIN IS WARNING

Accident fatalities at grade crossings are setting a record for frequency in this part of the state, according to the safety bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Officials of the auto club say in their report that they are at a loss to understand why so many motorists fail to realize that there is as much, and a lot more, room behind the train as there is in front of it.

There is only one safe way to avoid accidents at grade crossings, the safety bureau points out, and that is when approaching a crossing where there is not a clear and unobstructed view of the track in both directions to stop, look and listen. If the way is clear and no train approaching, shift into first or second gear and hurry across.

AUTO TRADES BODY PLANS BIG DINNER

The get-together dinner of the Orange County Automobile Trades association, to be held at the California hotel, Fullerton, Friday evening, promises to be one of the best and largest meetings of the association held in recent months. Herbert O. Davis, secretary, announced today.

Harry S. Mason, of Los Angeles, president of the state association, and H. J. Banta, manager of the H. J. Banta Company, successor of the Weinstock-Nichols company, will be among the speakers.

In addition, there will be deputations of automobile men from Long Beach and other points. A saxophone sextette, composed of employees of Glen Thomas, Studebaker agent at Long Beach, will play during the evening.

SELLING AT OLD PRICES

LA PORTE CITY, Ia., March 10.—James H. McNamee has sold his farm located five miles west of La Porte City to Andrew Gonnerman of Dyars for $285 an acre, $47,025.

This tract of land, which includes 165 acres, is in a good neighborhood and is well improved. Mr. McNamee will remain on the farm this year and in the meantime arrange for other land and continue farming.

PLAYER FOLK GIVE ONE-ACTS AT BEACH

Groups of men and women of Santa Ana and Anaheim identified with the Community Players of each of the cities today were recalling the pleasures of a delightful evening at Laguna Beach last night, when they were guests of the Laguna Beach Community Players.

The Santa Ana players presented two one-act plays. "Dregs" was given by George Gerwing, Robert Gilbert, Ralph Adams and Melvina Frye, while "The Maker of Dreams" was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Burr Shafer and Arthur Collins.

Anaheim players produced "Mixed Numbers." At the conclusion of the program by the visitors, the Laguna Beach organization entertained with a musical program. The community theater was the scene of the gathering.

CALLED TO PORTO RICO

SILOU CITY, Ia., March 10.—Fred J. Seaver, a curator in the New York Botanical gardens and an authority on fungi, has received an invitation from the government of Porto Rico to conduct a series of experiments and investigations on the fungi of the country, especially those destructive to coffee and citrus fruits. All his expenses will be defrayed by the Porto Rico government.

DRIVERS URGED TO STOP CARS OFF ROAD

With King Vegetable again attracting hundreds of devotees to the numerous roadside markets that develop in this season, the menace of congested traffic at the stands again becomes prominent. The situation is particularly dangerous Sundays, when thousands of motorists travel the highways and halt at the roadside stands to purchase fresh vegetables.

Officials of the Auto Club of Southern California today issued a warning to motorists, advising that as a matter of safety they pull their cars well off the highway when they halt at a market. "Some very serious and near accidents have happened because auto owners hop out of their vehicles and leave them standing almost in the center of the road while they visit markets," declared Elmer Heidt, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the club. "There is a law in California which makes it illegal to halt a motor car in any highway of the state, but officers are not, and cannot be expected to be at the stations to see that the law is observed."

"Motor car traffic has become such a tremendous problem in the southern counties of California that it is becoming more and more important for every individual automobile owner to take a little public interest in the welfare of this condition so that an unfortunate impression will not be given to our eastern visitors of our hospitality and courtesy."

SAY OILDAG ADDS TO GAS MILEAGE

Demonstrating the lubricating qualities of Oildag at the Platt auto park here yesterday afternoon, L. A. Garrettsen, distributor, drove a Ford car twenty miles after the crankcase had been drained of oil, it was declared today.

The lubricant is a combination of paraffine base oil and graphite, and according to the distributor, is one of the most valuable of lubricants on the market.

Oildag produces graphoid surfaces on all rubbing metal parts of the engine, eliminating friction and thereby increasing the mileage on gasoline. It is claimed that the use of Oildag will reduce the gasoline costs at least twenty-five per cent.

PLAN FOR 'ROBBING' POST OFFICE BARED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 10.—Did the arrest last night on a charge of drunkenness prevent the robbery of the Huntington Beach postoffice?

C. J. Walters, who was arrested for alleged intoxication told officers that he was one of a band of four men who planned to rob the beach post office. Walters said a bunch of ex-convicts were to come here Friday night to get the lay of the land and plan "the job." Walters, himself, admitted that he had done one "stretch" for grand larceny and two for burglary in the state penitentiary.

Officers investigating his story but could find little evidence to corroborate it. They could locate none of the suspected men whom Walters is said to have described.

SPECIAL TRUCK HIGHWAY ONLY WAY TO SAVE BOULEVARDS IS CLAIM

WOULD AID TAXPAYERS

Plan Provides Payment Of Toll or Tax to Meet
Thoroughfare Cost

Construction of a truck highway connecting Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, is the only solution to traffic congestion on the highways of Orange county and the only course open, for maintenance of highways, that will make operation of automobiles the pleasure it should be, in the opinion of A. M. Lacy, manager of the People's Finance and Thrift company.

Lacy today declared that construction of such a road should be taken up, discussed and decided on at an early date, in the interest of better roads and greater convenience to both truck and automobile operators.

Congestion Halts Traffic.
Pointing out that because of congestion and many trucks traveling the present highway, the driving time between Santa Ana and Los Angeles is at least half an hour longer than it formerly was in the days of less automobiles and trucks.

"In my opinion, the county should be bonded to provide a permanent highway for trucks," said Lacy. "The county could be reimbursed by a toll on the road or a tax that would return the investment eventually."

"However, even without imposing additional taxes on the trucks to support such a highway, I believe the taxpayers of the county in the end would be ahead if they built such a road and turned it to the exclusive use of the trucks."

Suggests Stage Tax.
"There is no sane reason, though, why the public should supply motor transportation companies with roadbeds free of expense. They are in direct competition with railroads which have to pay taxes and which have to build and maintain their own roads."

"Two types of highway should be maintained and each class of vehicle made to travel on the road built for it. In that way only will we ever have and maintain roads for the automobile that will offer the smooth driving surface necessary to comfort in riding over the highways in an automobile."

"An automobile road would be of a lighter type and could be maintained at a cost that would be nil as compared with the costs under today's method of permitting the trucks to use the highways improved with light pavement."

DEALERS' USED AUTO MARKET UNDER WAY

With one week's operation behind it, the Santa Ana Certified Used Car market of the Orange County Automobile Dealers' association, on North Broadway, near Fifth street, has a record of activity beyond the anticipation of the dealers, according to a statement made today by Roy Wilson, manager.

The used car sales efforts of the group of dealers identified with the organization are centered largely in the market, with the result that a large stock of good cars has been accumulated and many sales have been made. Wilson pointed out that cars sold by the market are conditioned by the agent handling the particular make sold, with the result that a purchaser is assured of full value.

"The agent has a greater pride and is more interested in seeing that a used car of his make gives perfect satisfaction and for that reason gives more attention to his car than he would to some other make," Wilson said. "This means that those who purchase cars through the market will be taking no chance, for the guarantee of the dealer is back of each machine."

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.
WINFIELD, Kans., March 10.—Andrew Hughes, 74, a farmer and veteran of the Civil war, was killed when the car he was driving ran off a bridge, falling into three feet of water. He was dead when his body was removed from beneath the car 30 minutes later. Mrs. Hughes and two young children were also injured. It being necessary to cut the bottom away in order to rescue them. Neither was injured beyond chill from the icy water.

FIXES WIFE'S VALUE
AT $2000 PER MONTH

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—The cash value of a wife's services has at last been determined providing the contention of H. R. Neff, who is suing the Abbott-Kinney company of Venice for $10,000, alleging them responsible for the breaking of his wife's ankle, is sustained.

Some time ago Mrs. Neff broke her ankle on the Venice ball room floor. She sued for $1,000 and got it. Today her husband sued for $10,000 alleging she has disabled for five months. He values her services at $2,000 a month.

STRANGERS RELIEVE ORANGE MAN OF $87

Pickpockets relieved V. Martinez of $87, according to a report received at police headquarters here today.

Martinez, who resides at 159 North Cypress street, Orange, told police here that two men, whose names he did not know, met him, and talked with him at Orange, before he came to Santa Ana. When he reached this city, he missed the money, he said.

INSIDE STORY OF AMERICAN LEGION

INDIANAPOLIS, March 8.—What reviewers have termed the "inside story" of the American Legion has been told unofficially in graphic detail in a book called "A History of the American Legion" written by Marquis James, of the staff of the American Legion Weekly. There is a foreword by Alvin Owsley, the national commander.

Light is thrown on chapters of the Legion's history about which little hitherto has been publicly known.

Restlessness among 2,000,000 idle troops who wanted to go home inspired speculation of "bolshivism" and counter-measures led to the train of events which are responsible for the Legion, according to Mr. James.

Theodore Roosevelt was prominent in these early Legion activities. His precipitous withdrawal from active participation in the organization's affairs is explained by Roosevelt's desire to disprove an early report that the real object of the Legion was to advance his public career.

The General Staff of the A. E. F. was cold to the projected Legion, but a staff colonel, George A. White, of Portland, Ore., disagreed with the majority. He went A. W. O. L. from G. H. Q. and toured France arousing interest in the proposed caucus at Paris at which 600 officers and enlisted men formed the Legion in March, 1919. The delegates waived rank and transacted business on a basis of absolute equality, a detail which laid all concerned liable to trial by court martial.

Opposition to the Legion in the United States, Mr. James states, came from three sources. Politicians of both parties were opposed, fearing the "Soldier vote"; the radical elements feared a conflict with their plans for a revolution; "big business" objected to agitation for adjusted compensation and feared an expose of war time profiteering.

Political opposition brought about an acute situation which might have spelled disaster in connection with Pershing's triumphal return in September, 1919. Mr. James relates that after the General had accepted an invitation to address a Legion mass meeting at Madison Square Garden, New York, Mayor Hylan appeared on the platform and urged him to leave without speaking, saying it was a "political meeting." Pershing stayed, however, and has since become an active Legionnaire.

Mr. James also describes the attempt of radical leaders to organize ex-soldier support to overthrow the government. The Legion opposed the revolutionists and the fight culminated in the massacre of four unarmed Legion men at Centralia, Wash. "Big business" interests tried to induce Franklin D'Olier to resign as national commander in 1920 and to repudiate the Legion's stand for adjusted compensation, according to Mr. James. Mr. D'Olier's refusal was an evidence of great courage, he says, adding that it cost the former commander, who is a wealthy man, a great deal of money.

"OLIVER TWIST" COMING TO YOST TUESDAY.

"Ay, stop him, for God's sake, were it only in mercy!" Thus does Charles Dickens end in "Oliver Twist" one of the most masterly bits of description ever penned—the brief, terrifying narrative of the flight of poor little Oliver, breathless, ahead of an insensate mob shrieking "Stop Thief!"

"Stop Thief!" The victim is an innocent boy, but the hunters know nothing of that. "A victim must be found," as Gilbert says in "Mikado," and Oliver will do as well as another. The guilty wretches who committed the crime join the chase and yell "Stop Thief," even more lustily than the others.

This is but one of the scenes of "Oliver Twist" that Director Frank Lloyd has lifted quivering from the pages of the book and placed upon the screen.

And the star of the picture—the forlorn hunted youngster, whose terror is as profound as his innocence, is none other than little Jackie Coogan himself. Announcement is made that Sol Lesser will present this most distinguished of stars, Jackie Coogan, in this masterpiece of classic literature, and supported by a cast inclusive of Lon Chaney, Gladys Brookwell, Lionel Belmore, and a host of other screen celebrities at the Yost theater for an engagement of five days beginning next Tuesday.

Movie Chatterbox

Cecil DeMille is going to Palestine to film scenes of his movie story based on the Ten Commandments. Arrangements are now being made for the longest location trip in the history of motion pictures. It is half around the earth from Hollywood to the Holy Land.

One of the biggest mergers in the film industry in recent years is that of the Cosmopolitan and Goldwyn companies. Cosmopolitan pictures heretofore will be distributed through the Goldwyn system under an arrangement which makes Marion Davies the only feminine star of the merged companies.

Mildred Harris has left vaudeville for several months to appear in a film for Metro.

Frank Mayo has signed a long-term contract with Goldwyn.

Frances Marion is writing the scenario for "The Love Piker," in which Anita Stewart returns to the screen.

Lon Chaney, Willard Mack and Barbara La Marr will appear in the film version of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

GRAND JURORS NEAR CLOSE OF MOB QUIZ

BASTROP, La., March 10.—The end of the investigation of mob rule in Marshhouse Parish was believed in slight today.

State officials predicted adjournment Wednesday of the grand jury which has been probing a reign of terror in the community climaxed by the brutal murders of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards.

The grand jury investigation, which has been under way a week had disposed of lesser crimes charged against the hooded band and is in the heart of the probe of the two murders, officials said.

GIVEN 'FLOATER,' MAN AGAIN JAILED

Several months after he was ordered by the court to leave Santa Ana, Cecil K. Moon, many times arrested, was scheduled to be arraigned today before Justice J. B. Cox on charges of possession of intoxicating liquor.

M. Guykendall, Moon's asserted companion, was to face charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, according to police records.

Moon and Guykendall were arrested at the intersection of Main and Fourth street last night by Patrolman Scott Willson.

Moon's residence on East Pine street was raided by police several months ago, and a number of empty bottles were seized. At that time Moon and a woman who claimed to be his wife, were charged with vagrancy and were ordered to leave the city.

taxing motor vehicles according to horsepower is fair.

There was some discussion as to taxing a special part of the public to pay a definite tax, but it was pointed out that when one in every four persons owns an automobile in this state, it is fair enough to believe that when motorists are taxed, virtually the entire population of the state is taxed.

GANNA. HAROLD KEEP MUM ON SEPARATION

SAN DIEGO, March 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick, of Ganna Walska and her husband, as you choose, gave the "falsehood" to rumors, reports and stories that they were separated in the popular meaning of that word.

Not by word of mouth, though. No indeed. Except to themselves, and perhaps, to intimate friends, they have not said one single word since they came into San Diego over the Carriso Gorge Route late yesterday.

The public did not see proof of McCormick's telegraphed statement of two days ago that "my arms are waiting for you." There was no hugging or kissing at the depot here, for the simple reason that McCormick went far out into the mountains to meet his wife.

When they dismounted from her private car here there was no ceremony of any kind. Just plain hurry to avoid newspaper photographers and get away across the bay to Coronado, where McCormick has been waiting for a week or more.

Society reporters noted that the gown Ganna Walska wore perfectly matched the pretty new sedan that her husband had waiting for her at the depot. That was all.

DEATH TAKES KIN OF W. T. NEWLAND

W. T. Newland, foreman of the 1922 grand jury and prominent Orange county pioneer, was in Pasadena today, called there by word of the sudden death of his sister, Miss E. A. Newland, whose body was found in her Crown City home by police yesterday.

Word of the sister's death came as a shock to the Newlands at their Huntington Beach home, as they knew nothing of an illness which might have caused the death. Mrs. Newland said that the cause of the death was as yet undetermined and that so far as she knew Miss Newland had been in fairly good health.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Pasadena for Miss Newland, who had been a resident of that city for the past 26 years. She came to California in 1892 from Camppoint, Ill., where she was born.

Miss Newland was 71 years of age. Beside W. T. Newland of Huntington Beach, Miss Newland leaves a sister in Camppoint, Ill., and nephews and nieces there.

WOOLWINE ASKS FOR SIXTY DAYS VACATION

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, March 10.—District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine today had on file with the board of supervisors an application for a sixty-day leave of absence without pay, making it possible for him to leave the state for a much needed rest.

Woolwine emphatically denied today that he intended resigning or that his health was as bad as first reported. He also declared his physician had ordered him to take a long rest but that he had not advised him to resign his office. Woolwine said he might spend his vacation in a seaport or he may return to Tennessee, his native state.

CADILLAC USED TO HELP MAKE MOVIE

According to Otto Haan, manager of the Cadillac Garage company, an interesting motion picture is now in the making in which a Cadillac plays an almost super-motor role in a dash across the continent from San Francisco to New York in seven days. The story is "The Drivin' Fool," which appeared recently in a well known magazine and will feature Wally Van and other film players under the direction of Robert Thornby, head of Regent Pictures company, which is producing the photoplay.

"Demanding a car that would stand unlimited doses of rough stuff," the producers obtained from Don Lee, Cadillac California distributor, a Type 61 roadster, which has started its trip from the Golden Gate eastward," says Haan. "Both cameraman and camera were lashed to a platform projecting from the front of the chassis and many of the scenes were taken along the California desert, where fast driving is synonymous with punishment for both driver and car."

"I wish you'd send a large mouse trap to my house."
"Yes, sir, and who is it for?"

Perfect Comfort on the Longest Tour The 1923 Buick Six Touring Sedan—'1935

For touring to the "Big Game" this fall, driving on the boulevard, or slipping along a country road in the happy sunshine of Indian Summer, this smart new Buick six-cylinder touring sedan offers a degree of comfort that cannot be surpassed.

Long and low in appearance, it affords perfect riding ease and comfort for five passengers. Its well-knit chassis, new cantilever springs and strong frame take up the jars and jolts of the country road.

Broad plate glass windows give a wide vision to all occupants, while protecting them from chilling winds. Added warmth is provided by a heater. The interior of the Fisher built body is finished in handsome plush with individual seats in front. Driving convenience is assured by a longer steering column at a lower angle, complete instrument panel and longer gear shift lever.

Large Luggage Trunk

The handsome luggage trunk carried on the rear of the touring sedan models is as practical as it is striking. It will carry a suitcase or small luggage so that the passengers need not be inconvenienced.

BLAINE VICTORY IN CONGRESS IS RE-TOLD

WASHINGTON, March 2—"The most dramatic day in my career!"

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, the grand old man of the House, repeated the question and mused for a moment as if mentally reviewing his half-century career in Congress.

On March 4, "Uncle Joe" hands back the tattered ensign of the Eighteenth Illinois district which he has held aloft for 46 years—a record that probably will stand for all time.

For eight of those years he was Speaker and he ruled the House with an iron hand. Mr. Cannon himself helped Speaker Tom Reed the first "Czar of the House," write the rules which made the Speaker an autocrat. "Cassidom" died when the insurgents sheared the Speaker of his powers in 1910 and Cannon was the last to reign supreme.

Today the mellowness of age has come with "Uncle Joe's" 87 years. Gone is the Cannon of the bitter tongue in debate. Gone is the Cannon of ruthless rulings from the Speaker's "throne."

Foes Now Friends

A kindly, philosophical old man has taken the place of the former "Czar" and his former foes have become his friends. One of the real regrets that comes with the death of the 67th Congress is the passing from public life of this picturesque character who linked the stirring events of two generations ago with today.

"Well," said "Uncle Joe" finally, as he gave the signal for a real reminiscence—filling the charred pipe that has taken the place of his famous cigar—and settled back in his chair, "I'll have to go pretty far back for that."

"The most dramatic scene I ever witnessed in the House was when James G. Blaine, in the eloquent words of Robert G. Ingersoll, 'tore from the throat of treason the tongue of slander' by exploding the mythical and malicious scandal concerning himself and the then famous Mulligan letters."

"To appreciate the importance of the event, it must be remembered that Blaine was the 'best loved and most hated man' in public life. At the time he was the popular candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and the convention was just ten days off."

Mulligan Letters

"The Democrats were in power for the first time since the Civil War and they were trying to pillory Blaine. Letters Blaine had written to a friend had been stolen by a man named Mulligan and the scandal mongers had woven a dirty tale about them to connect Blaine with the crookedness of the Pacific railroads. Those letters played a leading part in an investigation of the railroads, which was in fact an investigation of Blaine's private affairs."

"In some way Blaine regained possession of the letters and defied the power of the judiciary committee and the House to force him to produce them. Proctor Knott, of Kentucky, the chairman, threatened all sorts of drastic action to force Blaine to produce the letters."

"Driven to the wall, Blaine announced on Saturday that on Monday, June 5, 1876, he would rise to a question of personal privilege. It had the effect of a full-page advertisement in the papers."

Blaine the Storm Center

"Blaine was the storm center of politics. Everybody who could crowd in came to see the fur fly. Galleries were packed and Senators, Justices of the Supreme court and cabinet members jostled the House members for a place on the floor. Sunset Cox of New York, the 'House Jester,' was in the chair. On one side of the Speaker's rostrum was the almost unrecognizable form of Alexander Stephens, former vice-president of the Confederacy, in a wheelchair. On the other, Gen. Nathaniel Banks of Massachusetts, the first Republican speaker of the House, who distinguished himself as a Union soldier."

"To utter astonishment of everyone, Blaine calmly announced he would read the Mulligan letters to the House—the letters that were supposed to destroy him politically. It came like a bomb-shell explosion. The galleries and floor were instantly wild with excitement. Dignified men dashed about like schoolboys. Efforts of the sergeant-at-arms and the police to preserve order were fruitless, but the House became still as a tomb when Blaine lifted his hand for silence."

Only Private Matters

"Then as an anti-climax, the letters proved to relate simply to private business affairs. They told of Blaine's disappointments in business ventures and his inability to meet maturing notes and the embarrassment of others who had been guided by his judgment in investing their life's savings."

"As he finished reading the last letter, Blaine strode to the well of the House and demanded of Proctor Knott if he had received a cable from a man in London who had been sought as a witness by the committee. Knott advanced to meet him. It was a tense moment as the two men stood like gladiators within striking distance."

"Blaine held a slip of yellow paper in his hand. It was a copy of the cable and Knott knew he was trapped. Then Blaine forced Knott to admit that he had received five days before the cable which vindicated Blaine."

"Blaine's triumph was complete and the House was a bedlam. I have never seen anything like it before nor since."

ELECT NEW SENATOR

DES MOINES, Ia., March 9.—A successor to Senator D. C. (Cady) Chase of Webster City, who died last week, probably will be selected in time to take part in the last month of the session of the legislature, it developed yesterday, following the announcement of the governor that he would call a special election as soon as possible, though not until after the funeral. The law requires that ten days' notice be given, but even this would permit the new senator to be chosen by the middle of March.

SALARIES SHOW INCREASE

DES MOINES, Ia., March 9.—Salaries of pastors in the four Iowa Methodist conferences showed a steady increase, generally, through 1922, according to the results of a survey made public by the Northwestern Christian Advocate, a church publication.

HONOR SOCIETY ROLL AT POLY MADE PUBLIC

Scholastic ability is again being honored at the Santa Ana high school.

Brains, diligence and school activities combined to give sixty-eight high school students membership in the Honor society for the current quarter, it was announced today.

The Honor society is becoming increasingly popular in the school, it was said, and much interest is being demonstrated by the students in the publication of the honor roll.

Membership, which is based principally upon scholarship and which is held by quarters, depending upon the grades received during the preceding quarter, may become permanent membership, upon the student, being a member of the society for two-thirds of the student's high school career.

Permanent Members

Here are the permanent members for this year: Elizabeth Baker, Jerve Bauer, Dorothy Forgy, Olive Gilbert, Kathleen Helm, Oscar Mathews, Henry Powell, Frank Rogers, Bald Twist and Maxine Wilson. These are students who, throughout their four years, have attained a consistently high scholarship standard.

Members for the current quarter are as follows:

Seniors: Eleanor Adams, Marjorie Blaser, Audrey Bon Durant, Donald Bonn, Morris Borden, Robert Budrow, Harris Cloves, Edwin Cochems, Evelyn Cooper, Virgil Duncan, Alice Olive Forsey, Dorothy Gardner, Clair Hansen, Iris Head, Teresa Knapp, Kathleen McMillen, Mildred Paul, Horace Perkins, Marian Preston, Katharine Rehnau, Stewart Ritner, John Steele, Blanche Thompson, Kathleen Trago.

Alfred Ault, Aural Bauer, Rebecca Budrow, Ruth Clewitt, Constance Crookshank, Milton Davis, Carol Erskine, Alfred Fessman, Fern Flood, Jane Griffith, Harold Lewis, Mary McFadden, Robert O'Brien, Louise Pearce, Mable Prewitt, Josephine Rodriguez, Wilma Silver, Ethel Smallwood, Herbert Smith, Stewart Sutton. Sophomores are: Ina Bean, Helen Bowers, Josephine Crookshank, Gordon Harding, Doris Hill, Theodore Jesse, Jack Lilly, Priscilla Messias, Thelma Patton, Gladys Pearson, Annie Tarver, Virginia Thatcher, John Walker, Louise Walker.

FREMONT, Neb., March 9.—Word arrived in Fremont too late for the county officials to take into custody C. Moss, charged with buying two carloads of cattle in Rock county and giving bogus checks amounting to $3,000 in payment. The cattle had been fed at the Fremont stockyards and loaded again for Omaha before the local officials received notice from Sheriff Leonard of Rock county. It is alleged he issued checks in payment for the cattle drawn on an Omaha bank, which were returned with the notation that they were no good. Before the victims had received the returned checks, Moss was en route to Omaha with his cattle.

DODGE BROTHERS TOURING CAR

As Spring days approach, the demand for Dodge Brothers Touring Car mounts swiftly.

Dodge Brothers one problem, at present, is not how many Touring Cars they can sell, but how many they can build.

Never was public approval of Dodge Brothers product more obvious, and never was it more richly deserved.

Improvements, rarely spoken of but constantly being made, have brought the car to a state of perfection which can only be described as remarkable, even for Dodge Brothers.

Every part which takes a major strain is built of chrome vanadium steel. Many more pieces of alloy steel are used in vital parts than normal wear requires.

A Real 50-Horsepower Motor and the Stuff to Go With It—$1195

Never was a car like Jewett for performance! It eats hills. Goes 2 miles or 60 in high—all the range you want. The husky Jewett Six motor has 249 cubic inches piston displacement, that's why. And you know that piston displacement is what puts performance in a car. High-pressure oiling system forcing 2 gallons of oil a minute to all main and connecting-rod bearings, means smooth running and long life.

Behind this tremendous power is "the stuff that goes with it." Every part is rugged, rigid and heavy enough to do anything you want, with never a comeback or whimper. Chassis is the finest of its size. Judge its strength by Jewett's weight, 2805 pounds. Two hundred pounds more than any car its size! The frame staunch and sturdy is six inches deep. Four big cross-braces make it stout as a bridge. No fabric universal joints in a Jewett. They're all steel, with oil sealed in for a year's use.

And the axles are all Paige-Timken. Ball-bearing steering spindles in the front axle give finger-touch steering ease. The new Paige-type clutch, too, makes a hit with women. Jump your foot off. You can't jerk the car nor stall the motor. And for easy shifting—well, you can change from high to second at 30 miles per hour. That's real handling ease to match Jewett's fifty horsepower. And for comfort—this husky car rides and drives like a big Six!

Let us show you this stoutest, best-built Six you can buy for $1195! See Jewett before deciding.

TWO SUSPECTS IN BURGLARY FACE COURT

Confessing, police declared, to the burglary of the J. H. Hornaday Second hand store, 418 North Sycamore street, January 14, Nelson Cheney and Roy Webb, arrested Thursday night after a West Fourth street storekeeper had feared a hold-up, were today facing burglary charges.

They were scheduled to be arraigned before Justice J. B. Cox today.

Police Jail Suspects.
The two boys, Canadians, had entered the Harper store, it was said, and had loitered about in a suspicious manner. Police, called by Harper, picked them up a short distance from the store.

Ordered to throw up their hands, Webb, it was declared, refused. When he was finally persuaded, at the points of three guns in the hands of policemen, a 32 calibre automatic pistol and a jimmy were removed from his pockets, officers declared.

Grilled by police, they were said to have confessed to burglarizing the second hand shop, and other places which had been entered during the four months that they have been in Santa Ana.

Two Men Released.
Sam Cheney and Dell Meyers, companions of the defendants, were taken into custody yesterday, and were, rigorously questioned regarding their possible connection with the burglaries, but when they steadfastly denied knowledge of the crimes, they were dismissed.

In addition to the gun taken from Webb, two more, a Luger and a smaller automatic, were found in the room where the lads were staying. These were identified by Hornaday.

SHOULD AVOID POLITICS IN ASS'NS.

FARGO, N. D., March 10.—Farmers' marketing organizations should avoid politics, in the opinion of Milo Reno, Des Moines, Iowa, president of the Iowa branch of the Farmers' Union, representing 50,000 members in that state alone.

Mr. Reno is a veteran worker in farmers' organizations. His first training was received in the old Farmers' Alliance, which flourished thirty years ago and came to its downfall, he asserts, when it evolved into Populist party.

As another example, Mr. Reno declares the farm bureau cannot solve the farmers' problems, "because of domination by big business."

Mr. Reno's method of obtaining legislative relief is organization sufficiently strong enough to command attention, a sort of balance of power, similar to that of the theory now taught by A. C. Townley, for years national president of the non-partisan league. Townley admits he has changed his ideas since 1918. "We don't want office; we want results," he now says.

Mr. Reno would not even permit endorsement or discussion of candidates at farmers' marketing or organization meetings.

Admitting that the Farmers' Union was probably a factor in the election of Senator Brookhart in Iowa, he said their method was to discuss and educate members on political issues and call upon each candidate to state his position on farm problems.

James Morrison will have a leading role in "The Little Girl Next Door."

Katherine MacDonald is at work on "Chastity," her last picture under her present contract. She may retire from pictures after that.

Abel Gance, French producer, has completed "The Wheel." He took three years to film it.

"The French Doll," will be Mae Murray's next.

BAD BOY CLINIC CINCINNATI METHOD OF HELPING KIDDIES

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 10.—Cincinnati has opened a clinic to find out how bad children get that way.

An habitually bad boy is bad because of mental disorders, according to Dr. Emerson North, social worker, in charge of the clinic.

"We learn what's wrong with their heads, and after we have found out, we treat their heads," Dr. North said.

"Thus far we have had success. We hope there will be fewer men later on to put in penitentiaries, reformatories and electric chairs."

Dr. North and his associates believe the ounce of prevention proverb applies exceptionally to crime. "It is striking," said Mrs. Rebecca Boyle, social service assistant in the clinic, "that we get more children from worried parents than from the police."

"That is a good sign. It means parents are aware to the importance of nipping the least criminal tendency before it has made its imprint permanent."

Some of the children brought in by parents had been normal until a certain age. Then their parents began to observe gradual changes—flights of temper, piling up.

"This is the type of child we are most successful with," said Mrs. Boyle. "The gradual change is in most cases nothing latent that is just coming out on them but is caused by some developing disorder. Usually it can be corrected."

In the clinic records children who on police and juvenile court books are classed as "incorrigible," are listed as suffering from "conduct disorders."

Cincinnati is the first American city to establish a bad boy clinic.

TWENTY MEN TO TAKE COURSES IN BOY WORK

Imbued with the spirit of rendering a service in directing work among boys of the city, twenty men last night met at the First Presbyterian church here to take the initial step in preparation for taking the community course of training for workers with boys.

It was anticipated today that, at the next meeting of the course, March 19, at least fifty men interested in boys' work would be present to take up the training.

T. P. McKee, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, announced that any man interested in working among the boys will be welcome to join the course. The program that evening will deal with the physical life and needs of the boy.

Prof. L. W. Archer, of the junior high school, declared that while a large number of boys of Santa Ana are being helped through various forms of boys' work, more than half of the boys of the city are not being reached by any of these agencies.

The Rev. W. C. Eddy, of Covina, presented a thoughtful study of the needs of boys, in general, for leadership and guidance, and explained methods which are being used in his church.

George S. Chessum, county Y. secretary, spoke on plans for the local training, and took steps toward organization of the group for practical demonstration work.

THE LEEDS BANK ROBBERY BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim, Inc. Agt., NEA Service, Inc.

MICHAEL SAYERS, arch criminal of many aliases and disguises, was about to be arrested by the one police-officer who could recognize him, when his maid-servant, JANET SOALE, shot and killed the officer and thus saved him.

Thereafter Janet, a girl of strange beauty, became Sayers' accomplice. The forces of the law also received important reinforcement when SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, went back to his old calling and sought to pick up the trail of Sayers, whom he had known under the alias of Stanfield. How he accomplished this is told in this story, related at first in Sayers' own words:

It had taken months to collect all the necessary information and make the preliminary arrangements, but the moment had arrived at last. At twenty minutes to twelve on a Friday morning, I descended from a rather shabby Ford car exactly opposite Bailey's grocery stores at the corner of Menwood Road, in one of the northern suburbs of Leeds. It is a neighborhood of six-roomed houses and long, cobbled streets, a neighborhood teeming with men and women when the great factories close at hand are empty, but at this particular hour of the day, when the children are at school, and the men, and many of the women, are still in the mills, it shows signs of something approaching desertion. There was a handsome gray touring landaulette containing two passengers, a man and a woman, drawn up on the other side of the way, apparently to take advantage of the shade of some tall billboards while the chauffeur filled up with petrol. Otherwise—as a careful glance up and down the street convinced me—

I walked along a hot asphalt path and turned the corner into what was known as the Boulevard, almost unnoticed. On my left was a stretch of waste-ground, black and with malodorous refuse, empty tins and bottles abandoned even by the children as an undesirable playground. My right were more houses in course of erection, but today deserted because of an inopportune strike amongst the masons. The only inhabited edifice was the one where my business lay. A brass plate upon the door indicated that this was a branch of Brown's Bank, planted out here in this lonely spot for the convenience of the huge factories which dominated the neighborhood.

With my hand upon the swing-door I glanced around. My luck was certainly in, for there was still not even a child to be seen. Inside, behind the counter, both the manager and his clerk were huddled over bundles of treasury notes. They looked up inquiringly as I entered. Strangers in such a place, I imagine, were rare. Such a stranger as I was a rarity which they were never likely to experience again in this world.

My plans were cut and dried to the last detail. I wasted no time in any silly attempt to hold the place up, but brief though the seconds were, it was amazing how my brain chronicled a host of varying impressions. I saw the bland smile fade from the manager's lips; I saw the dawn of suspicion in his eyes; the gleam of terror followed by the spasm of pain as I shot him through the right shoulder-blade. His assistant had not the courage of a rabbit. White-faced, gasping for mercy, he stood there with his head and knees shaking. I am convinced that if I had left him alone for another five seconds, he would have collapsed hopelessly without any interference on my part. I was not able to take risks, however; so, leaning over, I struck him on the point of the jaw. He fell in a crumpled heap behind the counter. I then helped myself to seven thousand-odd pounds in bank and treasury notes, and in about a minute and a half after I had entered the bank, I stroiled back again the way I had come.

At the corner of the street, I looked back. There were no signs of life about the bank, no one apparently on his way toward it.

"I shot the manager through the shoulder blade," I told her. "The heart would probably have been safer, but the blinds of the bank were all drawn to keep out the sun, and my Panama was as good as a mask. His clerk was already dead from fear before I touched him. I didn't have to waste a bullet there."

"And how much?" she inquired. "Only just over seven thousand pounds," I admitted. "It seems a pitiful amount for so much planning and risk. But something had to be done."

We were up on a stretch of moorland now, well away from curious eyes. Janet and I were busy for some ten minutes, making three parcels of my stock notes. Then she looked at the map. "Arthington should be the next village," she remarked.

I nodded. We descended a steep hill. Halfway up the next we came upon a small motorcar drawn up by the side of the road, the bonnet thrown open, its owner seated in the dust. The latter rose to his feet as we approached. I handed him the black bag which I had been carrying, in which were my Panama hat and one of the packets of notes. He raised his cap nonchalantly.

"According to plan?" he asked. "According to plan," I replied. We sped on for another twenty miles, and then an almost similar occurrence took place. A man seated by the side of his motorcar rose to his feet as we approached. I handed him the second packet.

"All well?" he asked. "Perfectly," I assured him. (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

Dealings Fall to Low Volume During Short Day Session

NEW YORK, March 10.—Today's short session was relatively uninteresting from a speculative standpoint. Dealings fell to a volume below the previous Saturday since the start of the present aggressive phase of the market and most transactions were confined to a handful of industrial issues.

Professional operators attempted to capitalize under uncertainty of the market's position by starting a reaction in the first hour but this evoked only a small amount of liquidation.

Offerings mostly were limited to stocks in which good profits had accrued giving the day-to-day traders a tendency to retreat, rather than see their gains wiped out. After this liquidation was absorbed the market slowed up and trading dragged through the last half hour.

Return to a steadier basis in the general list early in the second hour encouraged modest demonstration in individual stocks.

The market closed lower.

Closing prices included:
U. S. Steel 197 1/2, off 3/8; Baldwin 129 1/4, off 1/8; Crucible 82, off 1/2; Studebaker 120 1/2, off 3/4; American Can 102 3/4, off 1 1/8; U. S. GRAIN PRICES DROP ON CHICAGO BOARD

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, March 10.—Grain prices were lower at the close of the Chicago board of trade today as the result of week-end realizing which developed late in the session.

Wheat opened strong, but broke fractionally on reports of rain in sections of the southwest and indications of further moisture. Exports were limited to 200,000 bushels from the seaboard.

Corn broke after a strong tone at the opening in sympathy with wheat and the development of considerable profit taking. Argentine cables indicated the new harvest was under way and shipments would be ready early in April.

Oats and rye merely reflected the movement in the other grains and prices were in sympathy.

"My partner should not have made me his executor"

Subdividers Should Consult Us

Because our successful handling of the finances of a number of local subdivisions indicate, our ability to serve other subdivisions in like manner.

"Running the business is enough to take all the time and energy I have. I really can't give my old partner's estate proper attention. Watching his investments, collecting the income, paying it out to his family, keeping the records, fixing up income tax statements, handling real estate—I'm doing all this for Bob's family now when there's only one of us to run the business. He never should have named me as executor and trustee in his will."

An individual may act as an executor once in his lifetime and that one time may be an excessive burden.

This TRUST COMPANY, on the other hand, performs the duties of executor and trustee as a business. It has the advantage of existing machinery, prepared to take up immediately and without lost motion, the work of settling an estate. This means efficiency and often results in a saving of expense to the estate.

JACK BRITTON MAY TRY TO COME-BACK

Former Welterweight Title Holder Begins Working With Gloves Again

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, March 10.—Old Man Britton, the former welterweight champion, hasn't had "enough" in twenty-five years and he is planning to come back.

The former champion didn't have a glove on until a few days ago when he was kidded into a little exhibition in one of the big gymnasiums.

Jim Montgomery, who used to be one of Britton's favorite victims in the old days, was working out and he spotted the fastidious Britton in the attire of a clothing ad.

Kids Ex-Champion
"You're back in them clothes for good, ain't yuh?" Well, I'm still in the old togs. It gives me grief that you quit because I was waiting in line to tap you on the chin," he handed the ex-champion.

Britton put on the gloves and a little sport and he shopped Montgomery in the fourth round. After several more good workouts, he asked Dan Morgan, his manager, to get him some business.

Britton and Ted Lewis were to have fought in London this summer, but both the old rivals cracked about the same time and prospects for the bout look slim now. Britton still thinks that he is back in good condition, and that he might go over after Ted.

Would Battle Lewis
"I'd like to have gotten him before his own White chapel gang when he had those three titles. I'd like to have been middleweight and light heavyweight champion of England just for the fun of it. Lewis made the crack that if he got me over there away from my old referee that he would knock me out and I was willing to give him the chance," he said.

Britton is one of the few prominent boxers who will concede that Luis Firpi, the South American heavyweight, has any class.

"He looks good to me," Britton said. "He acts just like Jeffries used to, and what impresses me most about him is that he is not too anxious in his work. He starts out a whole lot like Dempsey and as soon as he sharpens his punches I believe he will be a good fighter."

TUSTIN LOSES MEET TO MOTHER COLONY

Noted Grid Coach To Visit Friends In Orange County

FIELDING YOST

Fielding ("Hurricane") Yost, for the last twenty years football coach at the University of Michigan, will be a visitor in Orange county while he is on his tour this spring of the Pacific coast.

Yost will renew his acquaintance with members of the 1901 championship Stanford eleven, which he coached. Ralph and Tom McFadden, well known residents of Placentia and Anaheim, were on Yost's team that year and will meet their old coach when he comes here. Bill Traeger, now sheriff of Los Angeles, also played on the 1901 Card varsity.

During his years at Michigan, where he went after leaving Stanford, Yost has set up a record for winning teams which few mentors in the country can boast.

SEGUIN, Texas—Outside of Kamm, the best looking youngster with the White Sox is Woodward at second. He was the best second baseman in the Three-Eye league last season, playing with Bloomington.

110-POUND BASKET TEAMS TO PLAY AT ORANGE FOR TITLE

In the final game for the Southern California 110-pound division basketball championship, the Orange high school skaterweights and the Grossmont high school team of the same avoirdupois will clash at Orange Monday night. Neither team has suffered defeat to date.

Coach Fitzsimmons of Grossmont will bring the following men north for the fray: Frost and Richards, forwards; Clats, center; Walters and Challenger, guards; F. Evans and Phelps will be substitutes.

Gene Tunney, of all the ring champions, personifies best that type of character and citizenship that his profession would have as its ideal representative.

The American light-heavyweight champion is a real credit to a game that needs a lot of Tunneys, to be able to hold its head up in polite society.

From a standpoint of pure Americanism, the first question of the test goes back to 1917 and puts it in the words—"What did he do?"

Tunney did his with the marines as a volunteer. He is a product of the A. E. F. and a credit to it.

He plugged through the ranks and fought his way to the light-heavyweight championship of the allied armies and when he stepped out of his uniform, he kept plugging along the same way until he won the American title.

His hands went bad on him and he lost the title, but he kept on trying and now he is back as the champion again. Only Ketchel, Britton, Herman and Lynch had staged a championship come-back before Tunney.

Clean in the ring and clean out of it, Tunney should be champion for a long while and he deserves every cent he can make out of his position.

He gets now the chance to make a fortune that Bob Martin blew. Martin, as the pride of the A. E. F., had no limit to his opportunities

EXPECT HUGE CROWD AT IRVINE-SERAPH BASEBALL FRACAS TO MORROW AFTERNOON

With indications pointing to ideal weather and with both clubs putting in their lasticks for the affair, arrangements were being made today to handle what is expected to be one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a baseball game in Orange county when the Irvine club, champions of the Orange County Harbor league, and "Red" Killefer's Los Angeles Coast league squad No. 2, clash at Irvine tomorrow afternoon.

Tony Rego, brilliant young catcher of the Angels, probably will be in charge of the Coast leaguers, it was announced. Killefer will be with the part of his regulars who will meet San Bernardino.

According to word reaching here from Elsinore Hot Springs where the Seraphs are training, Killefer has just about decided to carry all of the recruits now with the team, for at least two weeks of the regular season. At that time five of the players will be cut loose or "farmed out."

The Irvine field is in the best of shape and will be providing it does not rain before game time. The tilt will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

"Lefty" Thomas and Herb McQuade, regulars last season, and Robertson, a recruit who is having his second trial with the Seraphs, will be shipped here for box duty.

"Tough" Tyrrell, local boy, will be behind the bat. Rego may relieve him later in the contest, and Tyrrell may move to an outfield berth.

Under the guidance of Billy Gibson, as good a manager and as fine a fellow as there is in the business, Tunney should not have difficulty in avoiding the traps.

For the good of the game that he is in, Gene Tunney ought to be the champion as long as he wants to be.

POLY TRACK TEAM NOSED OUT, 60-53

Stroschein, Jabs, Dungan, Gardner Win Firsts At San Diego

Members of the Santa Ana high school team today were back home from their jaunt to San Diego, where they were yesterday nosed out in a dual meet with the Hilltop high school men by the score of 60 to 53.

Santa Ana won six first places, first in the 220 and the 440-yard Arnold Stroschein broke the tape dashes. He also romped in for a second in the 100-yard sprint event. Stroschein looks better every start. He is a little slow in starting now, but Coach Ray Adams hopes to remedy this fault before the county meet March 31.

The other first places were recorded by Earl Jabs in the shot, Otto Gardner in the low hurdles, Henry Dungan in the discus and the Poly relay team, undefeated to date this season.

Jabs copped the weight event with a put of 43 feet 4 inches, his best mark of the season. Lloyd Morris nabbed second with a toss of 40 feet 4 inches. Morris is comparatively small, but he has shown great improvement with the weight. He also took second in the high jump with a leap of five feet seven inches.

Harry Smith, San Diego captain, caused Poly's undoing, for he annexed first places in the pole vault, high jump and the broad jump.

The results:
100-yard dash—Melton, San Diego; Stroschein, Santa Ana; Stephenson, San Diego. Time, 10 3-5.

250-yard dash—Stroschein, Santa Ana; Melton, San Diego; Stephenson, San Diego. Time, 23 2-5.

440 yards—Stroschein, Santa Ana; Rabe, Santa Ana; Hoyt, San Diego. Time, 55 4-5.

330 yards—Johnson, San Diego;

FIGHT RESULTS

LONDON—Eddie Egan, Olympic light heavyweight champion, former Yale boxing champion and now an Oxford student, won two bouts at the Oxford-Cambridge tournament. He stopped S. F. Mickle in the light heavyweight class, and knocked out D. A. D. Simpson, another American in the heavyweight division.

NEW YORK—George Godfrey, negro heavyweight protege of Jack Johnson, was knocked out in the eleventh round by Jack Renault, Canadian champion.

WORCESTER, Mass.—Archie Walker, Brooklyn lightweight, won a ten round decision from Sailor Byron.

PORTLAND, Ore.—Spug Meyers, Pocatello, Idaho, lightweight, fought a smashing ten round draw with Johnny Trambatis of Portland at the armory here last night.

Meyers, Santa Ana; Mangels, San Diego. Time, 2:10 3-5.

Mile—Johnson, San Diego; Carlstrom, San Diego; Mangels, San Diego. Time, 51 1-5.

120-yard high hurdles—Miller, San Diego; Stephenson, San Diego; Gardner, Santa Ana. Time, 17 3-5.

220-yard low hurdles—Gardner, Santa Ana; Stephenson, San Diego; Rabe, Santa Ana. Time, 26 4-5.

Pole vault—H. Smith, San Diego; Gardner, Santa Ana. Height, 10 ft. 4 in.

High jump—H. Smith, San Diego; Morris, Santa Ana; Bell, Santa Ana. Height, 5 ft. 6 in.

Running broad jump—H. Smith, San Diego; Armo, San Diego; Spencer, Santa Ana. Distance, 20 ft. 5 in.

Shot put—Jabs, Santa Ana; Morris, Santa Ana; Penrose, San Diego. Distance, 43 ft. 4 in.

Discus—Dungan, Santa Ana; Jabs, Santa Ana; Williams, San Diego. Distance, 100 ft. 4 in.

Relay—Won by Santa Ana. Winning team: Gardner, Sepnecr, Rabe and Stroschein.

POLY BASEBALLERS SPANK POMONA, 6-2

"Barney" Le Bard Fans 14 Batsmen In 7 Innings, Clouts Home Run

With "Barney" Le Bard dealing out death and destruction from his good right hand and also with his big war club and with the local players giving him splendid support, the Santa Ana high school baseball team yesterday afternoon defeated the Pomona high school nine 6 to 2 in a seven inning practice game at Pomona.

Le Bard allowed only five measly hits, fanned fourteen swatsmiths for an average of two an inning, and then made his work more complete with a beautiful home run smash to right center in the fifth frame with Ted Coffman lurking on the sacks ahead of him.

Santa Ana nicked Hill, the Pomona heaver, for four tallies in the third round and Le Bard's homer added the other two in the fifth. Pomona was unable to bunch hits off Le Bard and was fortunate to score at all.

Coaches Morrison and Neff used Coffman, reinstated after two weeks of ineligibility, behind the bat, Eddie Linesabard at first, "Red" Bickford at second, Bill Luck at short and Lelama Pinley at third. "Chick" Brown held down left field, Abe Johnson was in center and Fred Howell showed his stuff in right.

Santa Ana will meet the Long Beach high school team at Poly field next Tuesday afternoon in a practice fray and then lay off outside games until Friday when the Garden Grove high school club comes here for the first league game of the season.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Five veterans, four of them outfielders, were missing today when Manager Ty Cobb put his Tigers through their first training practice. Missing are Hellman, Veach, Flagstead, Pratt and Fothergill. Pratt will arrive here Monday, it was learned.

It's Easy to Reach OAKMONT

"A Community of Real Homes"

See It Tomorrow

Located at Santa Clara and Santiago Avenues, Oakmont is easily reached by driving out Main Street to Santa Clara and then turning to the east.

To the homeseeker and the investor, Oakmont offers an unusual appeal.

Located in the recognized best residential district, it contains all modern improvements (paid for by the subdividers) and many unusual features not found in ordinary tracts.

The prices are low, ranging from $1500 — $1600 — $1700

and up, thus giving the homeseeker and the investor a chance to realize on his purchase price.

And remember the first price is final—With it you pay for a homestead that has such improvements, as concrete paved streets, curbs, sidewalks, parkings planted with Oak Trees, and a handsome ornamental lighting system.

It is conveniently located, a few minutes drive from the center of the business district. Consider these facts and see Oakmont for yourself.

You will find our office located on the tract, where courteous salesmen will be glad to answer all questions regarding this unusual subdivision.

Where Will Your Money Buy More?

Located in the highest section of the city.

A rich Loam Soil.

Full bearing Orange and Walnut trees on the lots.

Gas, Water and Sewer piped to every lot.

Streets with perfect drainage.

Light and Telephone Service Poles on rear of lots.

Sport Flashes

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—With the arrival of Dave Bancroft who is expected to get here today, the Giant list of holdouts will be reduced to Jack Bentley, the $65,000 Baltimore rookie.

NEW ORLEANS—Disregarding orders of the club physician, Babe Ruth is working out with the New York Yankees. He is down to 204 pounds and he does not have to do the "road work" around the park with the reduction squad.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Attention of the Brooklyn Robins bosses is being directed at Fred Schliebner, Little Rock first baseman who may be forced to start as the regular first baseman.

LEESBURG, Fla.—The Phillies play their first real training camp game today when regulars meet yannigans.

TAMPA, Fla.—The training camp roster of the Washington Senators is now complete with the exception of Walter Johnson. The Senators "start hurler" is still being held on the Pacific coast by the serious illness of his little son.

A PUZZLE A DAY

POWKI

HAWAII
A certain tribe of native Hawaiians, it is said, used the words "Powki Hulda" to designate the islands upon which they lived. The two words are composed of two different figures, "L" for example, might mean "7." "D" might mean "3." Thus POWKI and HULDA each are numbers of five figures. An explorer added these two numbers together, and, strangely enough, found that their total spelled HAWAII. Can you discover what figure each letter stands for?

Yesterday's answer:
If two boys each had several marbles, and if the first, by giving one marble to the second, would equal the number each had; or the second, by giving one to the first, would make the number of the first boy's marbles twice the number of the second boy's; then the first boy must have had seven marbles, and the second boy five.

The nine Special Election Precincts so established are hereby consecutively numbered as Special Election Precinct Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Section 3. The Special Election Precinct No. 1 shall be composed of Election Precincts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995

EVENING SALUTATION

HIGHLY COMMENDABLE

The Register is pleased and proud to commend the spirit of independence manifested by the musical clubs, associations and societies of Orange county in their plans for financing the state convention of the California Federation of Music Clubs, to be held in Santa Ana April 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Although the music clubs are strictly non-profit, non-commercial organizations, and therefore eminently entitled to public support in the financing of the state convention they are bringing to Santa Ana, they prefer to work for the money they need to enable them (in the name of Santa Ana) to extend to the visitors a hospitality of which the city and county may justly be proud.

To that end the twelve musical organizations of the county are co-operating—and to a large extent all of them will participate—in giving the finest home-talent concert ever presented to an Orange county audience. The date of this concert is Monday, March 19 (at 8 p. m.), and the place is the Santa Ana High School Auditorium. The money derived from the concert will be used to defray the expenses of the State Convention to be held here April 5-7 inclusive.

The people of Santa Ana, especially, and those all over Orange county are deeply indebted to the musical organizations of the county, not only for many fine entertainments—the high order of talent and the immense amount of work for which have been given without money and without price, on the part of the participating individuals,—but also for the development and elevation of musical taste in the community—an incalculable social and moral value.

It is, therefore, ardently to be hoped and confidently to be expected that not only music lovers but citizens generally will support the music clubs in their undertaking to raise funds for the convention expenses. Every man, woman and child that attends the concert to be given at the High School Auditorium March 19 will get double value for his money—full value in entertainment and spiritual uplift and full value in the satisfaction that comes from having a part in a laudable public enterprise.

The state convention of the Federated Music Clubs of California will bring to Santa Ana hundreds of cultivated people whom it will be a delight and an honor to entertain, it will have a big community advertising value and, better than all else, it will create and revive in the community a greater love for one of the highest and most universally appreciable and applicable forms of art.

MERELY SEEKING HOME RULE

To a very limited extent the erroneous impression seems to prevail that the City Manager form of municipal government had its inception in and is based upon emergency conditions such as those growing out of the Dayton (Ohio) flood.

It is true that Dayton—conservatively and factually governed for many years—did make its first successful struggle for political independence and home rule immediately following the flood by the adoption of, perhaps, the most advanced city charter ever presented to an American city. But it cannot be fairly assumed that the Dayton charter was a distinct product of the disastrous flood of March, 1913. Activity for a new government had been inaugurated fully six months prior to this disaster, and by January 1, 1913, the project had acquired considerable momentum. The aftermath of the flood only accentuated an already apparent need for honest, efficient and responsible city management. "Government by deficit," embodies the actual reasons for the change in administration, and typifies conditions prevailing in the municipality—annual expenditures in excess of revenues, inadequate control over the service of employees, excessive cost of city supplies and operations, failure of contracts for services to conform with specifications, and unredeemable city officers to undertake active leadership for the welfare of the community. The city had had for many years a government sterile of all but the most commonplace benefits,—due in some measure to official incompetence, but in a larger way being merely an accrual from citizen neglect.

The statement has been made that American municipal government has not been proven a failure, but rather it has never been tried. What has been reproached as ineffective local government, has been really a reluctant local administration of state regulation of city business.

After several decades of such legislative experimentation in uniform styles of government for cities of diversified needs, a constitutional amendment was adopted September 3, 1912, extending to Ohio municipalities a large measure of home rule. This authority privileged such cities as desired "to exercise all powers of local self government, and to adopt and enforce within their limits such local police, sanitary and other similar regulations as may fit local conditions, as are not in conflict with general laws," and provided the procedure by which such local self government might be secured.

It is just that—and nothing more or less—that is sought to be accomplished in Santa Ana by the adoption of the proposed special city charter.

A New York commuter estimates that in 25 years of commuting he has traveled 975,000 miles. Now is the time for the financial statistic bound to remind him that at an average of three cents per mile he could have saved $29,250 by living within walking distance of his work.

THE USEFUL POSTBOX

The Postoffice Department has issued a "no box, no mail" order, to cover cities where postal delivery routes are heavy. It is an order which should obtain wherever there are deliveries. Yet strangely enough, officials in the various cities are having great difficulty in bringing people to see the justice of the order. In one city it was reported that 3,000 homes still lacked boxes on the day the order was to go into effect, although residents had been warned that they must either provide a suitable receptacle at the door or go to the postoffice for their mail.

The mail box saves all these annoyances. It can be made for almost nothing and purchased for little more. Ten cents worth of paint will make it match the color scheme of the house. It can be placed back of a porch pillar or inconspicuously in a doorway. Every residence in Santa Ana ought to have its postbox.

The current view seems to be that all the financial problems of a man or a nation are solved when some new way is provided for borrowing money.

Lyon Bill a Menace

Riverside Press.

Suppose the Lyon bill should become a law, Los Angeles might very soon condemn and take over the plants of the Southern Sierras and Southern California Edison companies which now supply power to the counties of Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange and Imperial. Then we should have to deal with that city in all arrangements for power, either as municipalities, corporations or individuals.

But, say the Los Angeles defenders, the law would guarantee you satisfactory service.

There is the trouble—the law does not make that guarantee. The act simply provides that in case plants are taken over by a city under condemnation that the court "may" (not shall) provide that "the substantial equivalent of service theretofore furnished by means of such property, or such portion thereof as may be equitable" shall be continued.

That guarantee is a mere scrap of paper. It makes no provision for the supply of a larger service to take care of growth and development but holds out promise of some part of the service before enjoyed if such may be found "equitable."

What show would Riverside have in fighting the great city of Los Angeles for an "equitable" allotment of power controlled by that municipality? In effect we should have to take what we could get and on such terms as Los Angeles might dictate, for that city is not under control of the state railroad commission in the matter of service and rates but is a law unto itself.

The possibilities of discrimination such as would throttle the growth of cities and put individuals and firms out of business are startling.

The present law may not be wholly satisfactory but we had better stick to that rather than "flee to hills we know not of."

Conserving Fertility

El Centro Press.

Organized efforts to preserve the fertility of the soil of this valley if publicity of these efforts serves only to advertise that the soil requires such attention will not have been at all sufficient.

Imperial Valley is only twenty years old and if it should be assumed that its fertility had been dangerously exhausted the conclusion might be that it was not in the first instance at all what has been claimed for it. The proper moral to be drawn is that land owners here are forehanded and wise enough to begin their program of conservation in time. This is certainly a commendable phase of it. It is one that should be emphasized, and this the Press, desiring to serve its constituency at all times in the best possible manner, wishes to do.

After all, there is one thing that must be remembered in connection with conditions here. That is that the ordinary rules of exhaustion do not apply in this valley. In all one-crop regions the drain is slower than it is here. For in Imperial Valley the growing season continues nearly the whole year through. Here the number of crops runs from two to ten. Based upon this fact the valley has been under cultivation not twenty years, but from forty to a hundred years, compared to most other agricultural sections.

From any view we may take of it the work of the Soil Fertility committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce must commend itself. It's a timely recognition of a vital necessity, sooner or later urgent. The meetings and the demonstrations scheduled this week are well worth many times more than their cost in time and effort.

General Exclusion Policy

Fresno Republican.

Some of the logical difficulties about our treatment of immigration will be solved by the newer attitude we are taking toward immigration.

For instance, in dealing with Asiatic immigration, we have met with the criticism from Japan that we are illogically discriminatory, when we pick out Asiatics, and admit Europeans freely. It is no answer, from the Japanese point of view, for us to note that Japan itself will not tolerate the sort of immigration that we object to. Japan will not permit Chinese settlers to flood her fields or own her land. She puts the burden of logic on the United States by saying that as long as America permits Danes to come or Italians, so we should permit Japanese.

The fact is that we have for over a century welcomed immigration. We have discovered, on the Pacific coast, however, that we were receiving an unassimilable "quantity" of newcomers, and we tried to shut them out, beginning with the Geary law in 1884. This was discrimination, in favor of Europe. But now we are tightening up the lines of admission against Europe.

We should in fact, adopt just the opposite theory. We should have a policy that excludes all settlers, with whatever exceptions we wish to make. We may be criticised for these exceptions. But at least there will be no general right of any one country to claim admission, for no country will have that right.

The suggestion of the American Legion against immigration should be accepted in principle. The United States has reached the point of saturation with its present population. Today, the only demands that are made for people are for particular kinds of people, to serve the selfish interests of particular classes. Some company wants cheap labor. Some housewives want servant girls. These are transformed into demand to break down bars against immigration.

As a nation we should say that we are not looking for further immigration.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Retires

San Francisco Chronicle.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, former Speaker of the House, after a service of forty-six years in Congress, has retired. The veteran statesman goes back to private life the object of honors among his colleagues that takes no thought of party or political differences. In the prosaic files of the Congressional Record is written a moving tale of this man's great service to his country.

"Uncle Joe" was really the most picturesque figure ever known to the American Congress. He was a two-fisted fighter, who never hesitated to use lurid words or biting sarcasm in debate. It was said of him that while members of Congress hated him in the chair they loved him in the lobby. In recent years, with advancing age—Cannon now is 87—he lost some of the fire that for so many years characterized his participation in public affairs, 'till to his last day in the House "Uncle Joe" was always certain of being listened to attentively whenever he chose to talk.

It's Hard To Tell Which is Happier

Reviving Business

Pasadena Star-News.

The acme of optimism and confidence is contained in the annual report of the Federal Reserve Board. Business is proceeding at revived pace. A "decided improvement" in the agricultural situation is noted. The incompleteness of the agricultural industry is attributed in part to the disorganization of foreign markets, because agricultural products are more dependent upon export demand than prices of other classes of commodities.

In its review of last year's conditions, the Federal Reserve Board notes that the long period of liquidation came to an end soon after the middle of last year. It is observed that "the year 1922 was one of almost continuous recovery from the disorganized markets and depressed business conditions resulting from the abrupt price declines of 1920."

Prices and production both increased. The year saw a greater output in industry than in any year since 1920.

So decided are economic betterments, the country has reason to rejoice that the pendulum has swung back toward normality in business and industry. The march toward prosperity is consistent and sustained. The prevalence of unemployment is gone. There is abundance of work, for the most part, and thriving is quite general.

Worth While Verse

MYSELF

I have to live with myself, and so
I want to be fit for myself to know.
I want to be able, as days go by,
Always to look myself straight in the eye;
I don't want to stand, with the setting sun,
And hate myself for the things I've done.

I don't want to keep on a closet shelf
A lot of secrets about myself,
And fool myself, as I come and go,
Into thinking that nobody else will know
The kind of a man I really am;
I don't want to dress myself in sham.

I want to go out with my head erect,
I want to deserve all men's respect;
But here in the struggle for fame and pelf
I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and know
That I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

I never can hide myself from me;
I see what others may never see;
I know what others may never know;
I never can fool myself, and so,
Whatever happens, I want to be Self-respecting and conscience-free.

HIS OWN MEDICINE.

A client, seeking advice from a young lawyer on how to avoid his creditors, was instructed to place all his property in his wife's name.

Later, the lawyer presented his bill for services rendered, and received the following reply:
"Dear Sir: I took your advice and placed all of my possessions in my wife's name and now I have no money to pay for your services."—Chicago Tribune.

A rural minister was bothered by the postman not only reading his postcards, but communicating their information to others. One day he wrote a postcard to a medical friend who lived at the other end of the village. It read: "I would tell you more only I know the postman will read it." Then he put the card in the letter box, whence it was collected, and taken to the postoffice and sent out for delivery.

The postman stamped into the doctor's surgery with the card, threw it on the table, and exclaimed angrily: "He's a liar! I don't read 'em."—Pearson's Weekly London.

THE REALLY SERIOUS PHASE.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, the great Brooklyn preacher, tells this one of his own former coal mining days in Britain:
A boy rushed into a miner's house one day and shouted:
"Come! Jem has fallen down into the mine and broken himself all to bits!"

"Heaven's sake!" said the other man, horrified. "An 'e 'ad my pipe w' 'im!"

AS RECOMMENDED

Lady: You said I would find that coal an economical kind to buy. Why, it won't burn at all.
Dealer: Well, ma'am, what could you have more economical than that?—Chicago News.

Benny Potts auctioned off his fielders glove at a auction sale held on his front steps last Saturday morning. Skinny Martin bidding 16 cents and being the highest bidder, the only trouble being that he didn't have the 16 cents so the next highest bidder got the glove, being Sam Cross bidding 12 cents, having 9 cents and owing 3.

Interesting Facts About Interesting People. Sid Hunt says he is sorry he ever had a radio set gave to him, because his father makes him go to bed on time every night now and then listens to it himself.

They can easy shut their shutters.

Science and Discoveries. Some of the fellows went around with Sid Hunt while he bawled a box of dog biscuits for his fox terrier Teddy, and on the way back they experimented to see if human beans could eat dog biscuits, the result of the experiment being that there was only 3 biscuits left for Teddy and there mite not of bin that meny if he hadent of jumped around and barked so mad. Among those helping in the experiment was Benny Potts, Sam Cross, Leroy Shooter and Lew Davis.

Quarter Century in Tropical Islands

Trade of the United States with its insular possessions in the first quarter century of our occupation totals about 5 1/2 billion dollars against a little more than one-half billion in the 25 years preceding our occupation.

It was on July 7, 1898, that the United States congress adopted the resolution annexing the Hawaiian Islands in accordance with the expressed wishes of their people, on August 12 of the same year the protocol providing for the cession of Porto Rico to the United States was signed; and on December 10 of that year was signed the treaty with Spain ceding the Philippines to the United States. Guam, formerly a Spanish island, was also occupied by the United States in the same year, while the tiny Samoan island, Tutuila, with the best harbor in all the South Pacific, passed completely under our control in 1899 after several years in which we had cooperated with certain other countries in the control of the Samoan group.

Thus the year 1923 marks distinctly our first quarter century of control of these tropical islands, with a population of about 12 million, and a record of our trade with these islands in the 25 years since our occupation is in marked contrast with that of the quarter century prior to our control, while their total trade is also several times as much since and occupies about 50 per cent of the preceding 25 years. Our total purchase of their products in the past 25 years has been $3,360,000 against $502,000 in the 25 years preceding our occupation. Of course, our purchases from them were more than they took of our products, for in the 25 years there are only 12 million people to feed and clothe while we have a population of 108 millions, all wanting tropical products.

The United States supplies a very large proportion of the imports of all these islands, 65 per cent of those of the Philippines, and over 90 per cent of those of Porto Rico and Hawaii. We take about 60 per cent of the exports of the Philippines, 90 per cent of those of Porto Rico, and 95 per cent of those of the Hawaiian group.

Sugar, tobacco and Manila hemp are our chief imports from the Philippines; sugar and pineapples from Hawaii; and sugar, tobacco and tropical fruits from Porto Rico. To all of the islands we export manufactures of every sort and also limited quantities of food, especially flour and meats.

New Stamps

Wilbur F. Cannon, in the Current issue of the American Girl, official organ of the Girl Scouts, states: "The first of the new stamps to be issued was the special delivery, with the motorcycle, in a deep blue. This was issued during the summer. About the 1st of October the 11 cent stamp was issued. This was a peacock blue with the portrait of Hayes. Teddy Roosevelt appeared on the 5 cent in a deep blue, a few weeks later. On November 11th, three stamps came out: the 15 cent gray, with the Statue of Liberty; the 25 cent deep green, showing Niagara Falls; and the 50 cent lilac, picturing the Arlington Amphitheater. A few days later the 6 cent orange Garfield stamps appeared. Some collectors approve of these stamps very highly, while many others hold that the colors and engravings could be better.

Other stamps to be issued, of this series, are: 1 cent, Franklin, green; 2 cent, Washington, red; 3 cent, Lincoln, purple; 4 cent, Matha, Washington, $50 Liberty Loan Back Bond; 7 cent, McKinley, "note black"; 8 cent, Grant, "bond olive"; 9 cent, Jefferson, pink; 10 cent, Monroe, yellow; 12 cent, Cleveland, purplish brown; 14 cent, Indian, yellow green; 20 cent, Yosemite, blue; 30 cent, Buffalo, sepia; $1, Lincoln Memorial, brown; $2, U. S. Capitol, blue; and $5, America, red and blue. All of these will appear soon.

If you would like to know anything about stamp collecting, write Mr. Cannon, 1413 Carey Avenue, Davenport, Iowa. Your question will have personal attention, and you will receive a prompt reply. There is no charge.

Birth Figures

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—The Department of Commerce announces that provisional birth figures compiled by the bureau of the census for the first nine months of 1922 indicate lower birth rates than for the corresponding nine months of 1921. For the states compared the birth rate for the first nine months was 22.8 in 1922 against 25 in 1921. The highest birth rate for the nine months is shown for North Carolina (30), and the lowest for Washington (18.3).

CAPITOL
JOKES

EARLY rises all ways are very proud of themselves. Two farmers were boasting of their achievements in that particular, and one of them resolved to show up the other. So he rose one morning about 2 o'clock, went over to his neighbor's house and knocked on the door. The neighbor's wife called out:

"Who's there?"
"It's Jim Place," replied the visitor.
"I'm looking for your husband. Where is he?"
The wife scented mice.
"Why, I don't know," she answered. "I guess he's out around the farm somewhere. I haven't seen him since early this morning."

Adventures of the Twins

House on the Steeple

By Olive Roberts Barton

This is what the paper said—the paper that was in the last egg the Cut-Out Woman had given to the Twins.

It said, "When you go up the ladder, knock once on the chimney, twice on a shutter, and three times on the door of the domino house."

"That must mean Jack Straw's house," cried Nancy.

"It certainly does!" said the rooster with the spectacles. "And I for one am going to stay around to see what happens."

"Well, we'll have to be starting right away," said Nick. "Goodby," said the rooster.

Off trotted Nancy and Nick to the place where Jack Straw's house spun 'round and 'round on top of a steeple.

There stood the magical ladder and there lay the magical mattress in case they should fall off the magical ladder.

Up, up, up climbed Nancy. Up, up, up clambered Nick.

And when they reached Jack Straw's house all the winds stopped blowing, and the house stopped spinning around.

They knocked once on the chimney, and thrice on the shutter—and then suddenly a voice called out. "You can't knock three times on my door for you don't know which domino the door is."

"Oh, yes we do!" said Nick. "King Even-Steven told us. It's the domino with the double five on it." And with that he knocked one, two, three times on Jack Straw's front door.

Suddenly bang, bang, crash! The house tumbled down about their ears, and down tumbled the Twins. But they landed on the soft mattress that came out of the egg and that the Cut-Out Lady had given them.

Jack Straw tumbled, too, peg-leg and all.

"Wh—what's happened?" he gasped.

"Your house fell down and now you've no place to live," said Nancy. "You had better give us your magic ring so we can turn Mix-Up Land into Apple-Pie Land again."
